PEACE WITH ALL NATIONS HER DESIRE

Poland's Minority Problems Factor in Her European Security Policy

PROGRAMME DRAFTED BY BRITISH CABINET

WARSAW, April 3 (AP).—The Government of Marshal Joseph Pilsudski was said today to have told Anthony Eden, Britain's envoy in search of a European peace formula, that Poland's minority problems make her eager for peace with all nations.

Poland, it was said, regards Lithuania, Memel, foreign armaments and the Baltic questions as problems only if any action on the part of another power should bring them close to the Warsaw Government.

EDEN ON HIS WAY

Tonight, Captain Eden, concluding his conference on peace with three of Europe's most powerful dictators, was speeding for Czechoslovakia, one of the remaining democracies in Europe.

Significance was seen in Eden's brief conference, just before he left, with the diplomatic representatives of France, Italy, the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia, who were summoned by him for a brief discussion, the purport of which was not revealed.

At the close of the talks an official joint communique was issued, stressing "the desirability of maintaining close contact on the European situation."

OUTLINE PROGRAMME

LONDON, April 3 (CP-Havas).—The British Cabinet today was authoritatively said to have outlined a three-point programme at a meeting preparatory to Friday's session, at which Captain Anthony Eden

PLAN PARTY IN ALBERTA

Followers of Douglas Credit System May Contest Next Election

By GEORGE FINLAY (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

CALGARY, April 3.—Alberta tonight faces the prospect of having a fourth political party in the field at the next provincial election, in mid-June.

Under the leadership of William Aberhart, founder of the Alberta Social Credit League, based on the theories of Major C. H. Douglas, British economist, decision on the formation of a new party of social credit adherents will be made here within the next two days. If political action is favored, the league will put a candidate in every constituency in the province, backed by a platform to "banish poverty from Alberta."

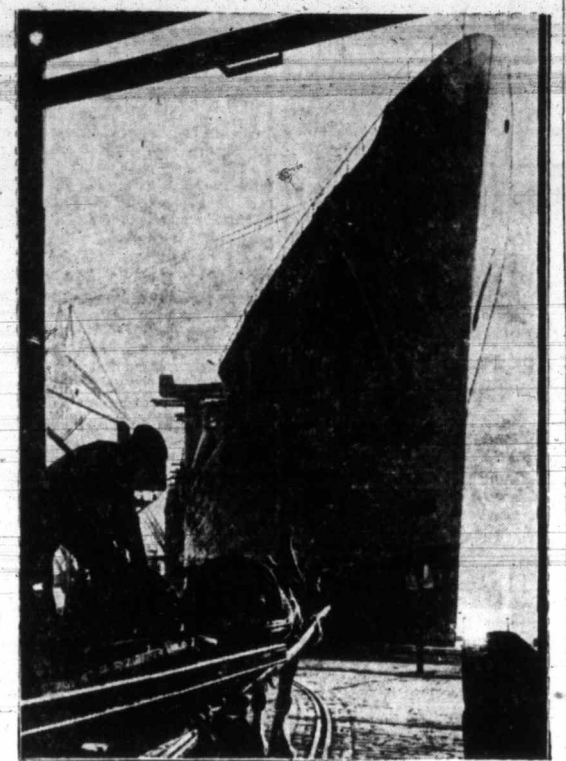

ALL IMPEREST

Social credit today engages the attention of all political groups in Alberta, the United Farmers of Alberta, which, under the administrative direction of Hon. R. G. Reid, Premier, now is in power; the Conservatives and the Liberals. The Reid Government has announced it will support any "feasible social credit plan," while members of the other older parties have favored the principle of such a scheme, though there is a divergence of opinion on the operation of such plans.

Opening tomorrow, the Southern convention of the Aberhart-Douglas Plan will be in session for two days. A draft platform of ten major planks was drawn up at a Calgary district convention last week, and this will be submitted to the delegates for approval.

One of its major planks calls for the establishment of a "basic dividend" in which every citizen would participate, payment to be made on a monthly basis, which the adherents of social credit hope to start at $25 a month. When the scheme is in complete operation, the dividend, it has been declared, could be raised to $75 per person each month.

Provincial Fair Date Is Changed To Have Racing

Exhibition at Willows Park Will Be Held From September 7 to 14, B.C. Agricultural Association Decides, in Order to Save Heavy Financial Loss

ECONOMICALLY forced to change the date of the annual Provincial Exhibition at Willows Park, the B.C. Agricultural Association yesterday morning adopted a suggestion of Vancouver horse racing interests and decided to hold the fair from September 7 to 14. This means that horses will race there from September 7 to 23.

Although it will cause considerable inconvenience to exhibitors who follow the circuit between Victoria, Duncan, Chilliwack and Kamloops, the association was forced to change the August 17 to 24 date, which was set some time ago, to avoid an impending heavy financial loss. Negotiations had been under way since Monday between the British Columbia Agricultural Association, Colwood Park Racing Association and Victoria Thoroughbred Association, with Hon. John Hart acting as mediator. Vancouver racing interests were represented by Jack Brighthouse and Sam W. Randall.

FIRST OFFER

Vancouver broke the ice by offering to run no races on the Mainland during the week if Victoria held her fair from August 17 to 24. But there would have been no racing here unless the British Columbia Agricultural Association made all arrangements. The association soon learned that all the best horses would go to Seattle in August. Stakes of $200 were as high as $1,000. Stakes of $200 offered here were felt.

PROVINCIAL LOANS GIVEN APPROVAL

British Columbia to Get $1,250,000 to Assist in Providing Direct Relief

OTTAWA, April 3 (CP).—Loans amounting to $1,250,000 and $1,000,000 for British Columbia and Saskatchewan, respectively, have been approved by the Government to assist these provinces in taking care of direct relief, according to several orders-in-council tabled in the House of Commons today.

Saskatchewan's $1,000,000 is to pay outstanding accounts for relief in the drought areas. In addition, Saskatchewan is given some further relief from immediate payment of loans made by the Dominion which matured last month. These totaled $1,929,015. They were extended for another year.

Winds and Quake Cause Extensive Damage in Mexico

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, April 3 (AP).—Winds of hurricane force causing heavy damage and coupled with an earthquake shook struck this region today. The storm swept over the region of Tuxtepec, Oaxaca, uprooting banana plantations and destroying homes. An earthquake of considerable intensity was felt at 2:45 p.m. over an extensive area.

SWISS HOLD NAZI WRITER

German Journalist Is Hostage for Return of Kidnapped Man

BERNE, Switzerland, April 3 (AP).—Switzerland today decided to hold Hans Weserman, Nazi journalist, hostage for the safe return of Bernhard Jacob, anti-Nazi newspaperman, kidnapped from Switzerland.

Police said Weserman told them he seized Jacob, who fled from Germany after his articles dealing with the Nazis' rise, and turned him over to Nazi secret agents, who rushed him across the border.

While the Berne Government awaited the Reich's reply to its formal protest against Jacob's abduction, police authorities continued an intensive investigation of possible links between German Nazis and Swiss groups.

The Swiss Government's expressed determination to demand exemplary satisfaction from Germany for "violation of its sovereign rights" received almost unanimous approval in the press and other public comment.

PREMIER SAYS STRIKE FUTILE

Warns Relief Recipients in Federal Camps Province Will Not Help

Men on relief in National Defence camps in this province who voluntarily leave in a walk-out scheduled for today may not look to the Province for help, Premier Pattullo warned yesterday, on return from Vancouver, where he said the same thing to a committee of the men.

The Premier pointed out that Federal arrangements have been made for an independent committee of inquiry to investigate relief conditions at the camps in British Columbia, and that no useful purpose could be filled by a "strike" of single men on relief.

Disregarding the advice, a committee of the men replied that the walk-out will take place, notwithstanding.

Provincial advisers at 5 p.m. yesterday showed that between 500 and 600 of the 8,500 men in Federal camps had left and were making for Vancouver. Of this number, 300 men were reported at Princeton, 100 passing through Kamloops, 125 at Chilliwack, and 125 additional men between Boston Bar and Spence's Bridge. The men were quiet and orderly, but definitely headed for Vancouver, it was reported.

Example of Germany In Building Up Army Followed by Austria

Steps Already Started to Increase Armed Forces of the Country

UNILATERAL ACTION RAISES A PROBLEM

VIENNA, April 3 (AP).—The Austrian Government tonight decided to follow Germany's example in increasing its armed forces.

A sixty-word communique issued shortly after the Cabinet met, with Premier Kurt Schuschnigg presiding, disclosed that steps to achieve that end already have been started. Under the Treaty of St. Germain, Austria's army was limited to 30,000 men, this figure including officers and "depot troops."

CABINET UNANIMOUS

The communique asserted Austria's right to arms equality, saying: "The Cabinet expressed the unanimous conception that the granting to Austria of full equality was a self-evident supposition."

Whether military conscription, such as that re-instituted in Germany in mid-March was contemplated, was not revealed. Military reports, however, lent attention to reports that an immediate effort would be made to increase the present army from 30,000 to 60,000, and that such effort would be "accompanied by the gradual elimination of private armies, such as the Heimwehr and the Catholic Storm troops."

ONE MORE PROBLEM

(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press) LONDON, April 3.—Austria's sudden decision to increase her army apparently added one more problem to those confronting the Stresa conference.

While British officials, surprised by the report from Vienna, declined to comment pending receipt of further news, they were reported to be

Condition of Premier Very Much Better

OTTAWA, April 3 (CP).—After four weeks confined to his bed in a hotel apartment, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett will be permitted to get up tomorrow. If his improvement is sustained he will be allowed to leave his room early next week.

For three weeks there have been no recurrences of the cardiac disturbance, and the Prime Minister has been pronounced fit in every respect. His associates anticipate that after some further rest and recuperation, he will be able to resume his parliamentary and administrative duties and head his party in the general election campaign this summer.

Australia Starts Jubilee Fund

CANBERRA, Australia, April 3 (CP-Via Reuters).—Following similar steps in the United Kingdom and other Dominions the Australian Government yesterday announced that, with His Majesty's approval, it was launching on Thursday an Australian-wide appeal for a memorial fund for the Royal Jubilee. The fund will be devoted here to combating maternal mortality. The Government is opening the fund with a donation of $50,000 (Australian), equivalent to about $193,500.

Jubilee Will Be Empire Toast to Beloved Monarch

Love and Affection of a Grateful People Will Ring Around the World on May 6, Lord Bessborough Tells Canadian Club in Gracious Message—Victoria Part of Enchanted Isle

"THE Jubilee on May 6 will be striking proof before the world of the solidarity of the British Empire. Canada, I know, welcomes the opportunity not only of a tribute to the Sovereign on an historic occasion, but of showing her love and affection for the person of the King, who has served his people with single-minded devotion through twenty-five years of the most difficult times his subjects all over the Empire have ever passed," Lord Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, declared to spirited applause before the Victoria Canadian Club yesterday.

ALLOCATE SUM FOR MT. TOLMIE

Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee to Spend $1,700 There

Expenditure of $1,700 out of a total appropriation of $3,600 for work on Mount Tolmie Park was authorized yesterday by the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee.

Work in preparing a road to run over the mountain has already been started, and to date some $1,200 has been spent on road work and clearing. However, to complete the job, the committee yesterday allocated another $500 to park expenditure.

The completed road will be tarred and gravelled both at the top and bottom of the mountain and at both entrances. The broom along the side of the road will be removed, too, it was decided.

Mount Tolmie Park, it was explained, would be made as complete as possible this year, and next year the committee will probably initiate a similar project at Mount Douglas Park.

GERMAN AIR FORCE EQUAL TO BRITAIN'S

Sir John Simon Reveals to House of Commons Claim Made by Hitler

BRITISH STRENGTH GROWING RAPIDLY

LONDON, April 3 (CP).—Germany, her rebuilt air force admitted officially only last month, already claims to be as strong in the air as Great Britain.

Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, made this disclosure before the House of Commons today, saying Adolf Hitler told him in Berlin in general terms that the Reich already had parity in the air with Britain.

In view of recent British Government statements denying assertions that the German air fleet was equal or superior to the British, the House began to bombard the Government with questions. Both Winston Churchill, "Die-Hard" Conservative, and George Lansbury, Labor Opposition Leader, requested that a day be set aside for debate on the international question.

HE TOLD THEM SO

Churchill, who told the Commons a month ago that the Reich's aviation was superior to Britain's, asserted that Sir John's statement today was in direct contradiction to previous Government statements on the subject.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, however, refused to set a day for debate.

Great Britain's five-year military aviation building programme launched last July and now speeded to three years will add forty-one and a half squadrons to the Royal Air Force, increasing its strength from about 840 planes, the total at the end of 1933, to 1,310 planes. The present number is about 1,020.

THE BUILDING PROGRAMME

During this year, eleven squadrons will be built for home defence, and one and one-half squadrons for the fleet air arm. This will mean the home defence force will consist of fifty-four squadrons, thirteen of which will be on an auxiliary or cadre basis.

END DEBATE ON BUDGET

Three Amendments Voted Down by Substantial Margins

OTTAWA, April 3 (CP).—Winners in three straight divisions, the Bennett Government today had its budget ratified by the House of Commons as the climax to the strangest debate in years.

With majorities ranging from 153 to 25, Conservatives beat back two amendments from the Opposition and passed the main motion. Then they trooped from the green-walled chamber, shouting and cheering Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes.

Conservatives and Liberals combined to snuff under 165-12, the so-called credit amendment moved by the Progressives. It was the first of the three votes.

SOUGHT ELECTION

Then the Government beat back the Liberal amendment, calling for an immediate election. The vote was 104-73 with five U.F.A. members and one Progressive voting with the Government (Spencer, Gardiner, Speakman, Irvine, Carmichael) and six U.F.A.-Labor-Progressives with the Liberals (Cooter, Mitchell, MacInnis, Woodworth, Heaps and Miss Macphail).

Then came the main motion, the actual ratification of the budget, which passed, 98-74. Eleven Progressives lined up with the Liberals but A. M. Carmichael (Prog.), Kinkaidley swung along with the Government.

Although it was a short budget debate, it had one unusual feature. Of the thirty speakers, twenty-one were Conservatives, six were Progressives and three Liberals.

SHOOTS COYOTES FROM HER PLANE

American Woman Visiting Regina Is Skillful Pilot and Also Crack Shot While Flying

REGINA, April 3 (CP).—Regina was host today to the only woman aerial coyote hunter in the world. Mrs. Ed. Kenfield, Williston, N.D., piloted a monoplane to Regina from across the international boundary, with her flyer-husband as passenger, to visit friends here. Mr. Kenfield is a pilot of more than fifteen years' experience.

Mrs. Kenfield has a transport pilot licence and is well known to sports magazine readers as the object of various articles on her abilities to shoot coyotes from speeding aircraft, a sport that takes good nerves and a true eye.

In a sound position are just fooling themselves.

Today Mr. Simpson countered: "My friend Gerry-McGeer did not know anything about the budget of the city at all. This statement follows his description of the terrible mess the city of Vancouver is in, where they took the sinking fund and applied it to current expenditures."

Power Bondholders Seek Compromise On Electric Contracts

Approach Ontario Government With Plan to Accept Reduced Interest Payments, if Drastic Action to Cancel Agreements Is Stopped

TORONTO, April 3. (CP).—The executive committee of the bondholders of Quebec power companies, meeting here today, decided to send a deputation both to the Ontario Government and to the companies involved, with a suggestion that a compromise be effected in the matter of two contracts made by the former Hydro Commission with four Quebec firms.

Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, on fair burden of debt over a period of many years.

PROPOSED PLAN

The committee proposes to lay before the Government and the companies a plan for acceptance by the bondholders of a reduced rate of interest, and that the saving thereby effected be passed on to the Ontario Hydro Commission to defray payments called for under the contracts.

The group, which formerly functioned under the name of the Power Securities Protective Committee, with I. E. Weidman, K.C., as secretary, decided to present the plan immediately to the Government and the four companies concerned.

The plan calls for reduction of the interest rate on the outstanding bonds of the companies from the present average of 5.32 per cent

Illuminated Cross Atop Mount Tolmie Sign for Faithful

The cross is raised thirty feet from the summit of the mountain, its arms composed of Neon tubing. Wiring was supplied by courtesy of the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee. Rev. Dr. Clem Davies, who will conduct the sunrise service, held the first of the annual events on March 23, 1933.

to an average of 3.32 per cent. The 2 per cent cut would reduce the annual financial obligations of the companies by a total of $3,600,000, the committee estimates, and permit an equivalent reduction to be made in the yearly payments by the Hydro for power it undertook to buy from the companies under contracts the Government now proposes to cancel.

ENORMOUS SAVING

The annual payments by Hydro will total approximately $14,000,000 by 1937, so that the reduction in interest suggested by the committee, if accepted, would permit a reduction in contract payments of roughly 25 per cent. Over a period of thirty-two years, the average maturity time of the bonds involved, the saving would amount to more than $125,000,000.

Citizens Urged To Get Behind Clean-Up Drive

"What are you doing to beautify your district and Greater Victoria?" is the question members of the "Clean-Up, Repair, Paint-Up Week" campaign committee are asking about the city. The Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the drive.

Citizens so far have enthusiastically supported the drive for a cleaner and more beautiful city, and campaign officials hope Victorians will carry their efforts beyond the one week.

In various parts of the city, homes are taking on new coats of paint, and local paint stores advise that many persons are taking advantage of the special low prices for paint this week. New fences are replacing old ones and dilapidated buildings are being torn down as suggested by the campaign committee.

NELSON VOTES FOR BIG HALL

Projected Auditorium, Ice Rink and Gymnasium Given Huge Majority

NELSON, April 3. (CP).—In the biggest vote polled in the history of the city of Nelson by ratepayers, a money by-law of $150,000 was passed upon today for the erection of a civic centre, which will include a monster auditorium, an artificial skating rink, an artificial curling rink, a badminton hall and a basketball hall.

Needling three-fifths majority to pass, the ratepayers, numbering 942, voted 798 in favor of the by-law, while 141 opposed it.

AT FEVER PITCH
The city was at fever pitch all day, and it was stated by authorities that the city took more interest in the civic centre project than has been taken in any civic, Provincial or Dominion election.

Work on the project will commence as soon as plans are amended, and labor will be local as far as possible. It is hoped to have the building completed in time for hockey and curling next season. Nelson will boast perhaps the finest artificial ice plant in British Columbia, with ample seating accommodation. Its erection will bring the city back into the realm of winter sports, which have suffered a great deal in past years due to mild weather.

NOT THE RIGHT WAY

ROME, April 3. (AP).—Government circles said, tonight, Italy would frown on any unilateral action taken by Austria toward rearmament, despite the fact Italy favors rearmament of Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria on a scale proportionate to that announced by Germany. It was said that Italy intended to place a suggestion that it favored such armament before the three-power conference at Stresa.

PLANS FOR CONFLICT

France's war and air ministers revealed their plans for conflict today even as her foreign minister mapped plans to secure peace. War Minister Louis Felix Maurin and Air Minister Victor Denain, appearing before the Chamber of Deputies sub-committee on national defence, told its members just how France would resist an invasion.

Outlining plans for stationing troops in fortifications instead of garrisons and completing the "ring of steel" guarding the eastern border, Maurin and Denain proposed that some 120,000 conscripts due to leave the army in mid-April be kept under arms at least three months more.

HEAVY BAIL FOR CELONA

Vancouver Man Freed on $30,000 Bonds Pending Appeal

VANCOUVER, April 3. (CP).—Joe Celona was released on bail of $30,000 today pending his appeal from conviction on a charge of procuring. Celona was convicted on Monday with Clarence Hancock and Ellen Joyce on a charge of procuring two girls to become prostitutes. Mrs. Josephine Fagundes, Celona's divorced wife, and Mrs. Mary Iaci each posted sureties of $5,000 today. Celona's recognizance on the remaining $20,000 was accepted. The two sureties, however, were not accepted until titles on the property on which they were listed had been approved in court after J. P. Mather, registrar, had demanded that certificates of title from the Land Registry Office be shown.

OPPOSES BAIL

Colonel Eric Pepler, of the Attorney-General's Department, opposed the application for bail, or as an alternative that it be set at $50,000. Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald ruled that Celona was entitled to bail, but he would set it at a high amount commensurate with the crime with which he had been found guilty.

In addition to the bail posted today, Celona previously was forced to raise $30,000 for bond on a charge of living off the avails of prostitution, on which he will face trial later during the present assizes, and $10,000 on a conspiracy charge pending against him, Ex-Chief of Police John Cameron and several others.

PEACE WITH ALL NATIONS DESIRED

will report his findings in Moscow, Warsaw and Praha.

The tentative decisions were said to be as follows:

1. Britain will not join the "Eastern Locarno" or similar agreement, but will lend moral support.
2. At the Stresa conference among British, French and Italian representatives, Britain will act as intermediary for Germany and keep the Reich informed.
3. Britain hopes France and Italy will agree with her in drafting, for the League Council session on April 15, a document on Germany's violation of the Treaty of Versailles that will be acceptable immediately to the League and also leave the door open for further negotiation with Berlin.

THE FRENCH THESIS

PARIS, April 3. (AP).—Pierre Laval wears Barthou's mantle to Stresa next week.

The French thesis, as Sir John and Benito Mussolini will hear it, will be short and to the point. Forecasts here say it almost certainly will follow this argument:

1. Germany has given proof that her word is worthless.
2. Ergo, it is useless to keep trying to get Hitler into idealistic security schemes involving disarmament, for he is as potentially dangerous in as out.

3. Ergo, the only thing that three nations, and our friends, can do is to join forces against Germany and Germany's friends and hope our superior force will avert war.

It is an argument Louis Barthou used many times — and probably would have used, with great gusto, could he be at Stresa.

80% OF YOUR DRIVING IS "STOP-AND-GO"

The average motorist runs up 80% of his mileage in short, "around town" trips... the costliest kind of driving.
To save money you need three kinds of power in gasoline... power to start with a minimum of choking, power to accelerate without knocking, power to run without waste.
Super-Shell, America's first truly balanced gasoline, gives you all three. Saves gasoline every hour you drive for extra mileage.

SIMSES CUT DOWN LEAD

Culbertsons Have Margin of 9,460 Points in Contract Bridge Marathon

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP).—Apparently little disturbed by a challenge from the "four aces" for a team match for a $10,000 stake, the Ely Culbertsons and the Hal Simses dived toward the halfway mark in their marathon 150-rubber contract bidding bridge match tonight.

Sims, bidding well and hitting them "on the nose," managed to cut the Culbertsons' lead to 9,460 points at the conclusion of the seventeenth rubber, the final one of the night.

Five rubbers were played during tonight's session. Sims won four of them.

SIMS MAKES SLAM

On the 405th hand, Sims bid and made six hearts to win the rubber with 1,630 points.

At the end of the sixty-fifth rubber, played late today, the Culbertsons had a 12,200-point advantage. The four aces, Michael T. Gottlieb, David Burnstine, Howard Schenken and Oswald Jacoby, issued a direct challenge to the marathon bridge event contenders for a team match of 300 boards, spotting them 5,000 points, for a stake of $10,000.

The aces have established the leading tournament record in the United States during the last two years. Their challenge found no immediate takers.

GOOD VARIETY IN PROGRAMME

Musical Art Society Presents Recital of Diversified Character

Although no special character was assigned to the concert, given by the Victoria Musical Art Society last evening, the programme, which marked the termination of the club's financial year, proved very definitely popular, and elicited a variety of excellent material, choral, string ensemble, and vocal and piano solo.

The Schubert Club, one of the most successful ladies' choirs in the city, gave a very good account of itself under Frederic King's direction, and seemed to sing with an unusually fine palette of tone color. Schubert's "Whither" in its tempo, was made to convey a good sense of urge, the diction was excellent, and the spirit happy. "Music When Soft Voices Die" (Wood), was very fine, tone-painting in pastel shades; Taylor's "My Johnny Was a Shoemaker" was taken at bright tempo with good rallentando. Greig's "Land Sighting," despite the fact that it is not essentially suitable for singing by women's voices, had very good character. Miss Grace Allen, accompanied with her usual distinction.

STRING ENSEMBLE

The other ensemble work fell to George J. Dyke's violin class, consisting of nine young players. This is an "up-and-coming" group, which plays with smooth tone, good intonation, and earnest attention to the conductor. Their numbers were Lang's "Passacaglia," the pizzicato part of which should be specially mentioned, and Tolhurst's smoothly and gracefully phrased "Intermezzo," which was repeated in response to applause.

Dorothy Parsons, as usual, inspired confidence, showing her customary fine preparation in the singing of two well differentiated groups; the first containing

SPEAKER FLAYS USE OF LIQUOR

Government Control in B.C. Is Criticized by William D. Upshaw

William D. Upshaw, former Georgian Congressman, and once a candidate for the Presidency of the United States, delivered a stirring denunciation against government liquor control in British Columbia before an audience of 350 in the Metropolitan United Church last evening.

"It is not liquor control by the government, but liquor control of the government in British Columbia," he asserted. "Any business that takes over $11,000,000 out of the pockets of the people and then debauches them is not a business founded upon righteousness. We must strike down every business that seeks government protection in destroying the youth of the country." He added that he looked for British Columbia going dry within a few years' time.

DEFENDS PROHIBITION

In defending prohibition under the Eighteenth Amendment in the United States, Mr. Upshaw claimed insanity due to drink had been reduced 66 per cent, crime 54 per cent, saving bank deposits increased 400 per cent, and the death rate reduced 20 per cent.

Rev. R. J. McIntyre, of Vancouver, announced at the meeting that the annual provincial convention of the prohibition association would commence at Vancouver next Monday.

Speakers at a dinner meeting held at the Y.W.C.A. for Mr. Upshaw last evening were: Mr. McIntyre, Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., R. G. Howell, and Mrs. C. C. Spofford.

GERMAN AIR FORCE EQUAL TO BRITAIN'S

The personnel of the R.A.F. is to be increased this year to 33,000 men, actually an increase of 3,500 men, since the R.A.F. did not attain its allotted maximum of 31,000 in 1934.

The amount Britain has budgeted for new war equipment is more than £10,000,000, the largest in her history.
MORE THAN DOUBLE
The part for works, lands and buildings — totaling £3,145,000 — is more than double that of last year. This provides for the start of work at ten new R.A.F. stations throughout the British Empire, a new air armaments school at Manby, and the enlargement and improvement of twelve existing stations.

B.C. HISTORY PUT ON SCREEN

First Historical Films of Crown Colony Days to Be Previewed Today

British Columbia's first historical films, prepared under supervision of the Provincial Archives, will be given a private preview at 4 p.m. today at the Provincial Museum, when four reels depicting something of the pioneering voyages of Cook and Vancouver, the founding of Victoria, and early settlement in the Crown Colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia will be flashed on the screen.

The series has been prepared by the Home Oil Distributors, Ltd., in association with the B.C. Archives, which is to have a complete set of the films in return for valuable help and co-operation rendered by Dr. Kaye Lamb, librarian and archivist.

USE IN SCHOOLS

While the preview will be private today, public showing of the series will be used extensively in British Columbia schools as occasion offers. For the last two months preparation of the films has been steadily going forward in the Archives, where many ingenious devices were employed to bring pioneer history of Canadian territory on the Pacific Coast to life on the screen. One reel deals with Victoria and the Island, another Vancouver, a third the Fraser Valley and a fourth with the Cariboo area.

MEASLES STOP MUSIC

KELOWNA, April 3. (CP).—An epidemic of measles has caused postponement of the annual Okanagan Musical Festival, which was to have started here Thursday. The festival will start May 29 and continue for three days as originally planned.

Youth Finds Champion in Canada's Woman Member

OTTAWA, April 3. (CP).—Canadian youth found a champion today in Agnes Macphail, the only woman in the House of Commons. Young men and women of Canada were defended from criticism made yesterday by F. H. Pickel (Cons. Bromes-Mississquoi).

Miss Macphail, in her most caustic manner, asked if youth had any reason to revere old age today. Youth had been tricked in the war of old age "who stayed at home and died in bed but not soon enough, unfortunately."

During the depression, none suffered as much as youth, Miss Macphail said. "What have we to offer youth? I cannot quite see why youth should be very enthusiastic at the moment as followers of the vision of age."

Old age always told youth to be ambitious and climb to the top but "I often think some of the stuff-shirts at the top disillusion youth." Youths became discouraged when they could find no jobs while someone at the top drew dividends or directors' fees from twenty-five companies.

Much Evidence Concerning Depreciation Assessments Against Canadian Collieries' Properties Heard at Yesterday's Session of Coal Commission in Nanaimo.

NANAIMO, B.C., April 3 (CP).—Two important questions were asked in the closing stages of this afternoon's hearing of the coal commission in Nanaimo: "Assuming that $255,000 depreciation was written off for the next three years, would that wipe out the entire amount, so that for certain years, there would be that much less drawback on costs?" queried C. H. O'Halloran, commission counsel, after assuming that the entire depreciation left amounted to $765,000.

WOULD PROTECT BRITISH COAST

President De Valera Has Visions of Anglo-Irish Peace Pact

DUBLIN, April 3 (CP via Reuters).—An Anglo-Irish peace treaty could easily be signed provided Britain would cease to "interfere" in Ireland, said Eamonn de Valera, president of the Irish Free State, in the Daily Mail.

Third reading was given to the Government's citizenship bill. De Valera said the bill rejected the title of British subjects for Irishmen.

"The fight will only end when every inch of Ireland is controlled by a Government elected by a majority of the Irish people," said the president. A majority of the Irish people did not want the country partitioned, as a plebiscite would show if Britain would consent to hold one, he declared.

Certain Irish ports were still held by the British, although the Free State frequently had assured Britain it was prepared to defend the coast, so that no foreign country could use Ireland as a base for an attack upon Britain.

EVIDENCE IS CONFLICTING

Inspector Vance's Testimony For Crown Met With Alibi By Defence Witness

Declaring that microscopic particles of glass and wood found in the cuffs of a pair of trousers were similar to the window pane and frame of a transom above the door of Walter Hobson's store at 1305 Esquimalt Road, which was broken into on the early morning of January 13, Inspector J. F. C. Vance, scientific criminologist of the Vancouver police department, gave evidence in County Court yesterday at the trial of Owen and Hugh Petticrew. They are charged with having entered the place with intent to commit theft.

'IL TROVATORE' MOST POPULAR

Of Verdi's Twenty-Eight Operas Has Had Most Representations

Of the twenty-eight operas composed by Verdi, "Il Trovatore" had more representations than any other. Produced in 1853 the opera had a hard struggle for popularity and was severely criticized by the critics of that day. However, after several years it captured the fancy of audiences, and to this day is one of the most popular of all the operas.

Verdi was born at Roncole, near Busseto, in the former duchy of Parma. At the age of twenty he became organist at Busseto, but five years later he returned to Milan, where his first opera, "Oberto," was produced, but his success as a composer was not permanently established until the production of his fourth opera, "I Lombardi," in 1843.

POPULAR OPERAS

Of the twenty-eight operas, the best known are "Rigoletto" (1851), "Il Trovatore" (1853), "La Traviata" (1853), "Aida" (1871), "Otello" (1887) and "Falstaff" (1893), a comic opera. His earlier operas were composed in the traditional Italian style, but in his later and much greater works, the influence of the romantic school was clearly shown. Unlike most of the great composers Verdi left a large fortune, a part of which was used for the establishment of a home at Milan for aged musicians and singers.

Most of the biographers and quite a number of the modern critics select "Il Trovatore" as the best loved opera of the nineteenth century, and it is said that hardly a day passed without the opera being produced in some part of the world, or its music played.

The Victoria Philharmonic Society chose "Il Trovatore" for its debut to Victoria audiences, and its presentation here in February was certainly successful. It was produced in concert form under the personal direction of Basil Horsfall.

REPEAT CONCERT

By request, officials of the society decided to repeat the performance, and on Friday evening at the Empress Hotel the opera will be given in its entirety, with a chorus of fifty voices, supporting a well-balanced and musically experienced cast. In addition, there will be a twenty-piece orchestra. The production is being presented under the distinguished patronage of His Excellency the Earl of Bessborough, the Countess of Bessborough and members of the vice-regal party, who are guests at Government House.

EXPENDITURE FOR YEARS SET BY BODY

Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee Arranges Programme

OUTLAY IS MORE THAN 1934 APPROPRIATION

Allocation of the $3,500 to be spent this year was decided yesterday by the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee at luncheon yesterday in Brenta Lodge following the committee's annual tour of the resorts under its jurisdiction.

The appropriation this year will exceed that of 1934 by slightly more than $500. Both the Victoria and Saanich representatives will seek an increase in the beaches and parks estimates, the former asking a boost of $400 to $2,000 and the Saanich authorities an increase of $250 to $300. There was a surplus last year of $800, which will be applied to projects this year.

The largest single appropriation designated by the committee was $1,700 for development of Mount Tolmie Park.

TO STRENGTHEN STRUCTURE

The public bath house at the Gorge, considered unsafe by authorities in its present state, will be made useable for the next three or four years by re-piling and strengthening the foundation of the present structure. This work will cost about $250. Two floats for bathers' convenience will be built and placed in Gorge waters adjacent to the public park at an estimated cost of $125, the committee decided.

Some $125 will be spent in general maintenance costs at Mount Douglas Park, and the committee will also investigate the cost of extending electric light facilities to the park to illuminate it during the summer months. Cadboro Bay will receive $100, Cordova Bay, $100; Ocean View Beach, $150; Verdier Avenue Park, $50, and special police for beaches during the summer, $400.

WILL CLEAR SHORELINE

A project, to be continued as the years progress, was given a start by the committee, when it voted $200 to be used to clear heavy brush on the Elk Lake shoreline along the East Saanich Road. The work, suggested by Reeve William Crouch, of Saanich, will, when completed, enable anyone using the road to see the lake without difficulty. Gravel will be scattered on the beaches.

Reeve William Crouch was re-elected chairman of the board and John Baxter was returned as secretary. Those in the party included Mayor David Leeming, Aldermen James Adam, Dr. J. D. Hunter and John A. Worthington; W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent; D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller and treasurer, and George M. Irwin, city engineer, representing Victoria, and Reeve Crouch, Councillors L. C. Haggan, Fred Borden and A. G. Lambriek; R. P. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, and H. H. Allen, municipal engineer, for Saanich.

HAVE DIFFICULTY SALVAGING CARS

LAKE COWICHAN, April 3.—

During the last few days the residents have been greatly interested in watching C. M. Anstee and his assistant, George Knight, of Vancouver, who have been conducting diving operations in connection with the salvaging of the skidder and cars which were capsized here recently.

Owing to there being a soft bottom where the accident occurred, the cars and skidder had sunk to a considerable depth, but the difficulty has now been overcome and the task of salvaging will soon be completed.

SELECTIVE LOG PLAN STUDIED

Hon. A. W. Gray and P. Z. Caverhill Will Inquire Into Oregonian Practice

British Columbia forestry officials are to renew their studies of selective logging towards the end of this week, when Hon. A. W. Gray, Minister of Lands, and P. Z. Caverhill, chief forester, will visit Oregonian camps, through the courtesy of United States forestry officials.

Both officials will go by way of Seattle, where Mr. Gray has a prior engagement. Mr. Caverhill will address the Society of American Foresters on Friday evening in Seattle on his impressions of South Africa, following his recent return from that Dominion, where he went with British Columbia lumbermen on a trade mission.

WILL VISIT CAMPS

The itinerary of the official tour is not yet available. The forest officials plan to visit several camps where selective logging is being conducted on a practical basis; with a view to studying what application of the principle may be feasible in British Columbia.

Selective logging was one of the contentious matters developed at the last session of the Legislature, arguments for and against the tractor method of operation in the woods being advanced in repeated debates. The Ministry of Lands undertook at the time to make full inquiry into the subject.

REINDEER HERDER BALKS AT DINNER

Andy Bahr Falls to Attend Seattle Luncheon Tendered Him After Long Absence

SEATTLE, April 3 (AP).—Andy Bahr—the bashful Arctic reindeer herder hero—was "unable to attend" a luncheon held in his honor today by the Knights of the Round Table, a luncheon club, as the city hailed his five-year trek across the Arctic wastes.

In his place, Ralph Lomen, Nome reindeer magnate, told of the thoroughness with which the expedition was worked out to transport some 300 reindeer a distance of 2,000 miles for the Canadian Government. Bahr, sixty-one-year-old Laplander, rejoined his family only last night after his long absence in the North, and he was excused.

A PROGRAMME FOR YOUTH

Those who are continually asking in this community, "What about youth?" and what about its future, could give practical expression to their sympathy by assuming the leadership in the establishment of a trust fund such as has been inaugurated in Great Britain, "to steady youth in its difficult days and strengthen its maturity." The fund in Great Britain is to commemorate the Royal Silver Jubilee. In the Dominion a fund for cancer research is the commemorative process, but that does not mean that local or provincial funds could not be established to do just what is proposed at the initiative of the Prince of Wales in Great Britain.

In inaugurating the trust fund in Great Britain His Royal Highness said that he, in common with all those to whom he spoke, is concerned about boys and girls after they have left school up to the age of eighteen. Then the interest of home and school declines "and boys and girls enter the world at the most critical moment of their physical, moral and mental development." The Prince ventured the opinion that such youth needs discipline, needs friends and needs recreation and interest. These, he says, will help youth to master the means of making life worth while. They will help young people to discover a sense of direction and purpose which is the one key of happiness and security. "The first step," he says, "is to invoke and encourage those interests latent in everyone which will steady youth in its difficult days and strengthen its maturity." The Prince admits that there is no sadder sight than aimless and dispirited youth. There is no more heartening sight than boys and girls "who are grouped together by some voluntary juvenile organization which gives them amusement, physical and mental training, new loyalties and new hopes."

The Jubilee Trust Fund is to extend the work of voluntary movements among youth, especially in those districts where the depletion of local resources calls for aid from some central source. The fund will be used to equip leaders. It will increase facilities for physical recreation and games; it will aid the pursuit of hobbies and the cultivation of abilities; it will extend camping and other healthy holidays. It will open up, in fact, for youth vistas previously viewed in far perspective.

The example of Great Britain in the stirring call made by the Prince of Wales is well worthy of emulation throughout the Dominions. It is something that can be done locally and provincially as well as nationally, and something that could be accomplished locally without reference to any other locality. There has been discussion in the correspondence columns of this newspaper on the subject. There are few more worthy objects that could be devised than those outlined in His Royal Highness's appeal. It should only remain for the necessary leadership to be forthcoming here. There is a plan of campaign prepared and if there is sufficient interest locally the desired ends can be achieved.

MANDATED ISLANDS

Japan is no longer a member of the League of Nations. The two-year period following the notice of her withdrawal has expired. This is a fact lost sight of in the preoccupation in Europe about continental troubles. It is a fact, however, which is bound to give rise to serious considerations at Geneva before long, for some decision must be reached as to what the League's attitude will be in the case of the mandated islands administered by Japan in the Pacific since the conclusion of peace following the Great War. While governing these islands Japan has engaged in heavy expenditures designed to increase their value by the establishment of commercial ports.

The question now is what action, if any, the League will take to deprive Japan of these mandated islands. If it follows the course it pursued in respect to Japanese action in Manchukuo it will simply enter a formal protest against the retention of these islands by Japan and leave the matter there. In that event Japan will keep the islands and can go ahead and fortify them and establish naval and air bases, and there is no power that will take any action to prevent her doing this. Technically, since Japan is no longer a member of the League of Nations, the islands in question cease to be mandated. It is conceivable that Japan will regard herself as having sovereign rights over them, for those rights are established and Japan is in no humor to yield any territory the loss of which would weaken her military power and her strategic position. The League has a thorny issue before it, the more so now than in the case of Manchukuo for it will be dealing with a Power which lies outside its membership.

INDIAN PRINCES REJECT FEDERATION

The Princes of India after careful deliberation have unanimously resolved to reject the Federal Scheme outlined in the Government of India Bill. The text of the resolution to this effect reads as follows: "The Princes and representatives of States present at this meeting have examined the Government of India Bill and the draft instrument of accession, and have read and considered the report made by the Committee of Ministers, presided over by Sir Akbar Hydari, which has recently dealt with some of the important provisions of the said Bill and the draft instrument of accession. They have also considered the opinions of the legal advisers and experts whose views have been obtained thereon. While reserving to themselves the right to offer further observations and criticisms in due course, the Princes and representatives of States present at this meeting fully endorse the observations and criticisms contained in the report submitted by the Committee of Ministers to the extent that the committee has been able to deal with the matters in question.

This meeting desires to emphasize that in many respects the Bill and the instrument of accession depart from the agreements arrived at during the meeting of the representatives of the States with members of His Majesty's Government, and regrets to note that the Bill and the instrument of accession cannot be regarded as acceptable to the Indian States."

The larger States acquiescing in the foregoing resolution are Patiala, Hyderabad, Mysore, Travancore, Kashmir, Jampur, Judhpur, Udaipur, Baroda, Bikaner, Bhopal, Indore, Dholpur, Panna and Rewa. This rejection of the Federal proposal by the Princes of India is bound to have repercussions and may well delay the passing of the Government of India Bill in its present form. That legislation is the most important before the present session of the British Parliament. The attitude of the Princes would indicate that the Bill must be amended in some of its more important particulars before it is acceptable to them. If passed as it stands at present there is the possibility of its proving unworkable. The Princes regard the Bill as dangerous to the existence of the States they govern. There can be no effective federation of India, under a scheme of home rule, unless and until there is absolute co-operation between British India and the Indian States. The first condition of responsible government is an "All India Government." That is impossible unless the Indian Princes are satisfied with what is proposed.

A DISEASE CONQUERED

In the fight against disease few triumphs have been more complete than in the matter of smallpox. Among civilized peoples it has almost been eradicated and it is eradicated altogether where the necessary medical precautions are taken. It is only necessary to go back to the eighteenth century to realize the nature of the triumph that has been achieved. In that era it claimed more victims in the British Isles than any other disease and was regarded much as measles is today, in fact as almost inevitable. Very few escaped and many were disfigured for life. It was a common item in advertisements for servants that they "must have had the smallpox." Only charlatanic remedies for it were known. One of these was a black powder made from thirty to forty loads burnt in a new pot. Within two centuries that disease, so much dreaded now, has been almost entirely eliminated except in Oriental countries. The march of medicine is the march to a cleaner bill of health.

To Income Tax authorities a name simply implies a mark to be aimed at for collections. An excellent story in this particular is told by Sir Thomas Beecham. He had arranged the music of the production of "The Faithful Shepherdess," by Beaumont and Fletcher, when he received a letter from the Income Tax authorities saying: "We have succeeded in getting in touch with Mr. Beaumont, but have been unable to trace the whereabouts of Mr. Fletcher. Can you help us in this matter?" No doubt chuckling with joy, Sir Thomas replied that "Mr. Fletcher resided in the north aisle of Southwark Cathedral, and if the authorities had really discovered Mr. Beaumont, he also would like to get in touch with him." The correspondence on the subject ceased.

THE CHORUS

Ever the high notes we must sing alone; Likewise the low. And if the spirit move, Or take to wings in the ecstasy of flight, It cannot share the dark or share the light. The middle notes we all may sing together As casual as the talk about the weather.

And so we live on horizontal planes And chant and chant again the dull refrain. If vertical we stood, this broken theme Might weave itself into a mortal dream And find a music that would surely banish The lethargy of hearts that slumber and famish.

Ever the high notes must we sing alone, Likewise the notes that reach the lowest tone. —Charlotte Newton, in The New York Times.

There is no such thing as chance; and what seems to us merest accident springs from the deepest source of destiny. —Schiller.

No company is far preferable to bad, because we are more apt to catch the vices of others than virtues, as disease is far more contagious than health. —Colton.

Note and Comment

E. R. D.

As the ancients say, "We have a care of the main chance. And look before you are you leap. For as you sow you are like to reap."

The political situation in Canada today reminds us of the story, the most entertaining story, of the two little boys who wanted to see the wheels go round. The two little boys were twins, and they had a maiden aunt who had an admirer. If you are a normal sort of person, you will understand what a nuisance a pair of boys can be under such circumstances. Notwithstanding what the Nature story-tellers write about the inquisitiveness of all animals when they are very young, nothing in the order of creation is so persistent in wanting to know or wanting to see as a young boy. We know, for there was a quite young boy in our house last week who within a few hours had investigated and asked about everything in the premises from basement to garret.

It is a long time since we read the story about Helen's Babies, but seem to remember that the name of one of the little boys was Toddy. Toddy had no conception of the purpose of the young man in visiting the house and gazing dumbly at the maiden aunt; but he had quite a definite idea that the visitor's chief business in life should be to entertain him and advance his education in the affairs of the world. Driven to desperation, the swain pulled out his watch, opened it and told Toddy to watch the wheels go round. Entranced by the artistic beauty of the timepiece and the movements of the mechanism, Toddy shouted to his brother to come and watch the wheels go round. The forlorn but well-meaning young man soon found out that he had made a fatal and fundamental mistake. The purposes of his visits from that time forth were frustrated by demands from the boys that they should be shown the wheels going round.

The political situation at Ottawa is just like that. Led by the inquisitive and the acquisitive Leader of the Opposition, there are demands at every session of Parliament for a general election. Mr. King wants a general election in order that he may see the political wheels go round. He has consulted the oracles of the party, and they have all told him that if the wheels are set in motion at this opportune time, the chances are that when the works run down the wheels of chance will stop at the right place. So the political situation at Ottawa reminds us of the sage saying of a practical politician that at times of crises it does not matter what we say as long as we all say the same thing. When a private person or a political party has but one purpose in life, all principles are discarded in the hope of achieving that purpose. The future of the country is of secondary importance to the ambitions of the party.

The leaders in Parliament are shouting that they want to see the wheels go round, and the press in all parts of the country are all shouting the same thing. We want a general election, and we want it now, when the Leader of the Government is temporarily incapacitated for the task of leadership by illness. If the opportunity is neglected, it may never occur again. We wonder whether this parrot cry in motion is ever considered as an evidence of the weakness of the Liberal cause or as a dread of the inspiration of a Prime Minister restored to health and strength and taking his seat in the House or his place on the hustings, exposing with his natural vigor of mind and body the hypocrisy of his bitter opponents.

Human greed and lust for money have often been described as the source of all the ills from which the world is suffering at the present time. But it does seem to us that there are other vices at the root of many of the existing evils. Political lust of power is even more to be reprehended and condemned than love of self. The interests of individuals may be sacrificed in the pursuits of unlawful gain; but the interests of nations may be subordinated for the purpose of gaining political power and the perquisites of office. Current history may be appealed to in support of this proposition. There appears to be a crisis in the affairs of the great American nation, precipitated by politicians inspired by the economic theories of ambitious professors. A few years ago there was a crisis in the economic affairs of Great Britain, created by the greed of impractical politicians and a misguided electorate. A disaster was averted in Great Britain by timely action. The United States has great recuperative powers and tremendous resources, and may speedily recover from the effects of the depression and the mistakes of her politicians. Canada thus far has made no mistakes and her business is gradually being restored to its normally healthy condition. The time will come under the provisions of the constitution for a general election, regardless of the designs or the ambitions of party politicians. Therefore all the clamor for an immediate general election is but silly childish chatter.

No Hurry, No Flurry, No Worry

A French-American who occasionally visits Victoria spends most of his leisure time riding on the street cars. It is not only the best possible form of entertainment, he says, but nowhere else in the world has he seen such amazing courtesy and kindness from the conductors. Nowhere else, for instance, would a conductor, seeing a patron half a block distant, stop and wait until the passenger caught up, and then, quite frequently, assist her to climb in. Their good nature is proverbial. At times it has an admixture of dry humor. Yesterday morning an Oak Bay car conductor waited patiently in front of Terry's for a patron who came panting up Douglas Street, a good fifty yards distant. He delivered her safely at the Oak Bay terminus. Later in the day, returning to the city, this same patron was dropped by a motorist friend at one of the "Stop" signs in the Dardanelles just as the same conductor brought his car to a standstill at the spot. As she dropped her fare in the box he made the succinct comment: "Had to take a taxi to catch me this time!" —J.E.M.B.

You can get a great kick out of holding a sweepstake ticket even if you don't win. For months before the race you can be a free thinker and conjure up the many things you would do with the $150,000 or more if you got it. For instance you might go back to the old home town; be nice to the girl you loved; buy a home for the old school chum who's seen better days; give a chunk to charity; treat the former boss, or even lend him a ten. You might afford a suit a day, or invite the boys to a big-time dinner, without the speeches. You could travel, and travel, and travel. Ho, hum, here's my No. 6 car. Wonder if I've got six cents for car fare? —R.A.G.

DATE FIXED FOR MUSIC FESTIVAL

Island Event Will Open at Nanaimo On April 10—Record Number Competing

NANAIMO, April 3. — With the largest number of contestants registered since its inception, the eighth annual Upper Island Musical Festival, of which A. Dunsmore is president, will open for three days here on April 10. Chemainus, Ladysmith, Duncan, Parksville, Comox, Courtenay and Qualicum will be represented. Dr. E. Forester has been appointed secretary pro tem to take the place of Sheriff R. T. Covenay, who expects to be busy about that time.

The executive has secured the services of Dr. P. Walker Robson, outstanding British adjudicator, who has officiated at festivals in London, England, and Blackpool, and in the district of Croydon and North Derbyshire. He is an associate of H. Plunkett Greene, Geoffrey Shaw and Thomas Dunhill, and will adjudicate all classes except folk dancing and elocution, which will be judged by F. G. Woods and Miss Lena C. Clark.

THE ARTERIES OF COMMERCE

Sir,—British Columbia has many picturesque waterways that compare favorably with the fjords of Norway. Even Mr. Brisbane was impressed and commented on their scenic beauty. But we cannot rest on our laurels under the impression that they alone are sufficient inducement to attract tourists.

We must have roads. Roads are the arteries of commerce. This is based on realization of the fact that in this mechanized age the average American tourist on vacation feels the call of the open road and travels by car.

As an object lesson note what California has done with the tourist trade by advertising and highways, resulting in a flood of cars trekking South annually. Let us turn the flood North and change the slogan, instead of "California here I come!" let it be "British Columbia here we come."

Vancouver Island, the playground of the Pacific, is latent with tourist possibilities, but we have no highways, or poor ones, therefore no arteries through which the stream of commerce should flow. Our tourist trade is anemic, resulting only in a feeble trickle of revenue derived from these sources into our coffers. We have been dormant too long and neglected commercializing one of the greatest assets of British Columbia.

I turn the spotlight again to Sayward. If the bankers have no faith in the province the people of Sayward have. A mass meeting was held here on March 25 by the Tourist Trade Development Association. Mr. J. B. Howes, chairman, opened the meeting, introducing Mr. J. E. Armistead, speaker for the evening, who stated that the Tourist Trade Association was carrying on the fight for the Island Highway to Sayward. He also commented on the seriousness of conditions and the necessity of a co-operative economic security plan, and advised that a unit of the new social order be established in Sayward. At the end of the speech Mr. J. E. Armistead was given a hearty vote of thanks.

A resolution was passed requesting that a part of the three million dollars grant by the Highway Loan Bill be appropriated to extend the Island Highway to Sayward.

His threat it voices a dim sense of terror That lies concealed; he knows he is at fault; The very language shows he is in error. What danger is the motive of assault. The papers know, AND HOW, they're sitting pretty, SPA can never bring them to their knees. Their structures may continue, shrewd or witty, "Don't be silly, Mr. Premier, if you please." —B.H.B.-W.

Insult to their Canadian nationality. It is time, as that loyal Canadian, Henri Bourassa, said yesterday in the House of Commons, that Canada realize that she was part of the American continent and insisted that she run her own affairs unhindered by any policies from Great Britain.

It is also time that she define the status of her citizens and adopt a national flag of her own, both of which have already been done by the Irish Free State, Australia and South Africa.

Also, William Arthur Deacon's book, "My Vision of Canada," should be made a textbook in all Canadian schools.

CAMERON LAKE BRIDGE Sir,—Re your editorial of Friday, March 29, I was glad someone saw fit to take up this matter. The bridge in question is my only exit to the main highway. I own a car and I also pay quite a sum annually towards the upkeep of a school bus (the Department of Education paying part too) to take my four children to school six miles away. For the last month my children have had to walk out to the main highway so that the school bus wouldn't have to cross the condemned bridge. (No notice has been posted up that it is condemned, only the engineer's "P" report.)

For the last three Winters myself and two young sons have kept this road and bridge open by shovelling off snow, and in the Summer, throwing gravel in the holes, as the Public Works Department didn't seem to worry about it, in spite of letters I wrote. The system of upkeep seems very singular to me. This road comes under the jurisdiction of the Qualicum road foreman, who lives twenty odd miles away (no fault of his). The Hilliers foreman cannot do any work on it, as it is on the north side of the Alberni Highway, though he passes by every day. Some system! I and the residents of Cameron Lake sincerely hope the Government Public Works Department and perhaps the Tourist Association and the Victoria Publicity Bureau will do something, as it affects the tourist traffic also. Thanking you for your description of Cameron Lake, as it is all that you claim it is.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of April 4, 1885)
Dense Fog—A dense fog prevailed early yesterday morning in the Strait and harbor, and, in consequence, the coasting steamers did not leave at their usual hour. Becoming tired of waiting for the dense mist to clear away, Captain Radlin gave the order to cast off, and took the St. Enterprise out of the harbor, the Princess Louise and the Amelia following immediately afterwards.

Good Friday—Yesterday being Good Friday, services were held in the Episcopal Church and the Roman Catholic Church, both in the morning and in the evening. Archbishop Sayers lectured at the Cathedral on View Street to a large congregation. Business generally was suspended, and the weather being favorable, many utilized the holiday in boating, driving and picnicking. At Beacon Hill a game of baseball was played between the moulders and the boiler-makers of the Albin Ironworks. The game was a long one, and the moulders finally won out by a score of 21 to 29.

Musical Art Society Starts on New Year; Directors Elected

Annual Meeting of Organization Held Last Night at Empress Hotel Reports Gratifying Membership Increase and a Growing Interest

THE following were elected directors of the Victoria Musical Art Society, at the annual meeting of the organization held last evening following the regular April programme.

Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Mrs. Dorothy Gough, Mrs. F. M. MacPherson, Edward Parsons, and Reginald Cox (for three years); Mrs. Eva Baird, Miss Gwendoline Harper, Miss Dorothy Parsons, Mrs. W. B. McMicking (two years), and Miss Nellie Scowcroft (one year).

These are additional to the present board of directors, whose terms have not yet expired: Mrs. C. S. Beals, Mrs. C. H. French, Mrs. S. M. Morton, Edgar Holloway and Dudley Wickett.

At the first meeting of the board, to be held in May, officers will be elected from the foregoing.

REPORTS READ

In her annual report the president, Mrs. C. S. Beals, recalled the origin of the society, whose lineage was the Ladies' Musical Club, formed in 1905. The present Musical Art Society was formed in 1930, and at the moment was in a gratifying condition, an access of interest among the members having followed the decision at the beginning of the present year, to hold all programmes at the Empress Hotel. It had also been decided to hold only three afternoon programmes during the year, the remainder to be in the evening. This move, too, had proved popular.

The regular monthly programmes of the society had, with the exception of those given by Bernice Claire, soprano; Ursula Malkin, Vancouver pianist, and Randolph Hokanson, Seattle pianist, been by local performers, and had demonstrated the wealth of musical material possessed by the city. One of the highlights of the season had been the visit of the Hart House Quartette, assisted by John Hopper, pianist, brought by Mrs. J. O. Cameron, who turned over the net proceeds to the Musical Art Society.

of a society was the presentation of well-balanced programmes, and in this connection the president commented on the lack of instrumental ensemble numbers, whereas the public obviously enjoyed this type of music.

LIBRARY NEEDED

Attention was called by Mrs. Beals to the need, locally, for a library of music for the benefit and enjoyment of all performers within the society, and also to make possible the public performance of works, which otherwise could not be included in the programmes. It was thought, too, that such a library would improve the standards of ensemble work. This called attention to a second need, viz., competent leaders, who could give sufficient time in the production of more complex concerted numbers, as months of preparation were involved in the preparation of works for public performance.

The financial aspect of the society's work required constant thought and attention, and in this connection Mrs. Beals referred with special appreciation to the able and much appreciated work done by the treasurer, Dudley Wickett. Tribute was also paid to the programme convenor, Miss Gwen Harper, and to the secretary, Reginald Cox, and other officers, and the advisory committees to the three junior branches.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

In his annual report, the secretary, Mr. Cox, spoke of the gratifying increase in membership, now 323 as compared with 250 the previous year. During the year there had been twelve business meetings with an average attendance of ten members. Ten programmes had taken place, seven in the evenings and three in the afternoons, an outstanding event being the three-piano recital given in January. Thanks were specially expressed to those who had opened their homes during the year for board meetings of the society.

The treasurer, Dudley Wickett, gave an audited statement, showing receipts for the year amounting to $1,024.92, plus balance of $121.50 from the previous year, and disbursements totaling $995.74.

Representatives to the three junior branches submitted reports: Mrs. W. B. McMicking for the junior branch, Miss Scowcroft for the intermediate branch and Mrs. French for the juvenile branch.

WASHED OVERBOARD BY ONE WAVE AND RETURNED BY NEXT

HALIFAX, April 3 (CP).—In pursuit of Castilian, Antonio Etenga will tell you it's an ill wave that washes nobody good. And he should know. The first wave washed Antonio off the deck of the Spanish trawler Mistral and left him yards from the ship on the stormy Atlantic. The second wave washed him right back again.

It dumped him on deck with a broken collar bone, but that's all right with Antonio. He was taken to hospital when the Mistral docked here today.

Obituary

GILLIES — The funeral of Mrs. Duncan Gillies, who passed away last Monday, will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Hayward's E.C. Funeral Chapel, Rev. H. P. S. Lattrell conducting the service.

GIBBARD — There passed away yesterday morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Mrs. Mary Louise Gibbard, aged seventy-eight, wife of William Gibbard. She was born in London, England, and had been a resident of this city and Gordon Head for the past six years, but had previously lived in Saskatchewan for twenty-six years. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Miss Elsie Gibbard, at the family residence; one son, Ben, Gordon Head; three daughters in Saskatchewan, Mrs. J. F. Gordon and Mrs. J. P. Cunningham; one brother, John Day, in England, and a sister, Mrs. William Graham, of 2730 Shelbourne Street. The funeral will take place on Saturday, H. P. Blyth will officiate, and the remains will be laid at rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

Canadian Legion District Council Visits Governor

Members of the District Council of the Canadian Legion paid an official visit to Lord Bessborough at Government House last evening. The Governor-General showed a keen interest in activities of ex-service men and told the visitors that His Majesty the King was also concerned with the well-being and associations of those who fought for the Empire.

Those present included Lieut.-General Sir Percy Lake, W. G. Stone, Colonel W. N. Winsby, C. A. Gill, W. J. Dalloway, W. J. C. Johnston, A. E. Allison, T. J. W. Hick, Captain Burges Gadsden, W. Douglas, Major A. Gerrard, D. G. Holmes, H. Thompson, Frank Partridge, W. Currie, P. Mulholland, H. Gibson and W. Allen.

TRADES GROUP AMENDS RULES

Proposals for Changes Endorsed by Delegates—Now Go to Locals

Proposed amendments to the constitution, by-laws and rules, were under consideration by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council at its regular meeting last night. Discussion on the various changes was in committee of the whole and took up the major portion of the business.

Increase in delegate representation is proposed. Under the present rules a local union is entitled to two delegates for a membership of fifty or less and one additional delegate for each additional fifty members or a majority fraction thereof. The amendment would allow a union to seat two delegates for each twenty-five members and an additional two for every additional twenty-five or majority fraction.

The amendments provide further that every delegate must have a working card for the previous six months, except in the case of delegates from newly organized unions. Party politics would also be definitely barred from the discussions in the trades council. The amendments were approved in committee and will be sent to the individual unions for final endorsement.

The Victoria Typographical Union, which withdrew its affiliation from the trades council to take effect on March 31, will remain with the council. The withdrawal was formally rescinded at a meeting of the Typo last Sunday after hearing a delegation from the council concerning matters previously in dispute. These matters, it was pointed out last night, were not serious enough to cause a permanent breach between the Typo and the trades body, and had been satisfactorily adjusted.

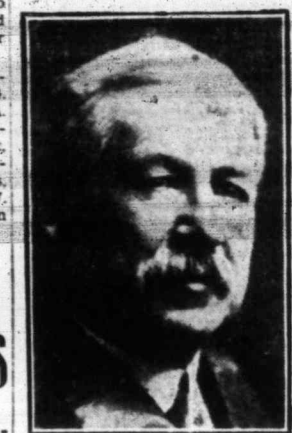

The council will continue its efforts to effect reorganization where reorganization is deemed necessary, and the proposed amendments to the constitution were considered by the Typographical Union as assurance that matters in dispute would be fully adjusted.

DR. A. PRIMROSE REACHES CITY

Urges Canadians to Support His Majesty's Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund

DR. ALEX PRIMROSE

"We haven't seen Toronto since the middle of January," smiled Dr. Alex Primrose, of that city, on his arrival at the Empress Hotel yesterday. "It's possible to do that when you're retired." He was speaking of the trip he and Mrs. Primrose, who is with him, had made during the last two months, a trip which embraced points as far apart as Sea Island, Georgia; New Orleans and the sunny cities of Southern California.

Before Dr. Primrose again sees Toronto, he will have addressed many meetings all across Canada in support of the King's Jubilee Cancer Fund, a task which he has undertaken because of his sense of duty to society and for which he is particularly fitted because of his authoritative knowledge of the subject.

Retired from the faculty of medicine at Toronto University, where he was for many years professor of clinical surgery, with a list of honors and degrees testifying eloquently to his services, there are few members of the medical profession who are in a position to know more of the ravages and miseries of this dread disease than Dr. Primrose.

UNLIMITED SCOPE
The fund is not only wanted for research, but also for treatment, equipment and education both for doctors and laymen. There is almost unlimited scope for the use of the money which will be given by a public roused by the menace of this scourge, a menace so grave that His Majesty can think of no better way of marking his jubilee than a fund for its alleviation," declared Dr. Primrose.

During his stay in Victoria, Dr. Primrose is to be the guest of members of the Medical Society at dinner. He is also conferring with Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary of British Columbia.

Tomorrow he will speak under the auspices of the health division of the Vancouver Board of Trade in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina and Winnipeg.

REMARKABLE RESPONSE

"There has been a remarkable response to the appeal being made for the Cancer Fund in Canada, and particularly so in the Western provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba," said Dr. Primrose. "The organization today has achieved most encouraging results."

CAMP OWNERS END CONCLAVE

Discuss Important Tourist Matters—Are Preparing For Many Visitors

Endorsement of the movement under way to have the Governments of Canada and the United States permit free interchange of advertising matter across the international border was given at the Spring conference of the "Best Camps, Incorporated," held Tuesday and Wednesday at the Victoria Tourist Camp.

Delegates representing owners of 103 of the principal tourist camps on the Pacific Coast participated, and also favored investigation of all so-called "gyp" advertising schemes. Delegates expressed themselves in favor of eliminating obsolete camps and objectionable highway signs. Discussion was held regarding matters of camp administration and standard equipment.

PROSPECTS GOOD
Prospects for 1935 look very favorable, said C. A. Giles, of Salem, Ore., secretary of the organization, following the conference. He declared that reservations and requests for folders, telling of the Pacific Northwest, were months ahead of 1934. Mr. Giles commented on the reported 100 per cent increase in automobile sales in California, and said he believed this would mean more tourist parties would come North during the Summer months.

A number of the delegates left the city last night for Up-Island points. Later they will cross to the Mainland from Nanaimo, and will be guests at the Grouse Mountain Chalet.

The purpose of the "Best Camps, Incorporated," is to raise the standard of tourist camps. Membership is by invitation and based upon standards of cleanliness. Equipment and management are inspected twice yearly.

All camps are assessed according to size, and the money thus raised is used to print and distribute 125,000 folders yearly.

MAKE PLANS FOR NANAIMO MEETING

NANAIMO, April 6.—Great preparations are under way for the great mass meeting to be held here on April 27, under the auspices of the Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island. Plans are being completed to make this event one of the most interesting and spectacular gatherings ever held on Vancouver Island.

The city will be decorated and illuminated for the occasion. Mayor John Barsby stated today. There will be a great open air banquet in the afternoon, and in the evening the largest hall in the city, capable of seating 1,200 persons, will be secured for the addresses by mayors, reeves and district representatives from unorganized sections. There will be a fine musical programme arranged for the whole of the day.

The gathering together of citizens from all sections of Vancouver Island, to plan unitedly for the general advancement of the whole, will be unique in local history, and it is expected that it will mark the commencement of more prosperous times. It was stated by His Worship.

WILL LECTURE ON BOTANIC GARDENS

Arrangements have been made for an illustrated lecture to be given by Dr. H. T. Gussow, Dominion botanist and chief of the Department of Plant Pathology, in the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening, April 17.

Dr. Gussow's lecture, which will be profusely illustrated with beautiful colored lantern slides, will deal with proposed National Botanic Gardens for Canada. Dr. Gussow has visited the leading botanic gardens of the world, and has given particular attention to those of the British Empire.

The lecture is free and open to the public.

It was further discovered that the association would receive no share of the pari-mutuel betting tax nor any Government grant if there were no horse racing during the fair.

CO-OPERATION IS EVIDENCED

Fine Gesture Is Made by Newly-Organized Branch At Courtenay

COURTENAY, April 3.—Island co-operation and unity of purpose for a larger measure of prosperity is a real thing, and was demonstrated here today when the local branch of Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island was formally launched at an enthusiastic meeting presided over by Mayor Charles Sims. Not only were there delegations in attendance from Cumberland and other sections of the central portion of the Island, but discussions were predicated in a broad Island-wide basis.

That the spirit of co-operation is no mere form was evidenced when the publicity committee of the new organization announced that in the printing of the new tourist booklet for Courtenay and district, the old slogan "Turn North at Nanaimo" is to be dropped. This, it was pointed out, was not considered to be fair to Island communities south of Nanaimo. It was felt that Victoria was in earnest in its desire to co-operate with other centres, and this was but an effort to meet co-operation with co-operation.

CHIEF SUPPORT
The chief speaker at the luncheon was T. H. Eslick, general secretary of the organization from Victoria, who brought greetings from the mayors of Victoria, Duncan, Ladysmith and Nanaimo. He reported that he was most gratified on his trip up the Island to find the enthusiastic manner in which the movement was being supported. "Indeed," he remarked, "it is such that I wish that every resident of Victoria could see and appreciate as I do, the manner in which the Island is responding to the call for co-operative effort to advance prosperity."

As a service to tourists an attractive information bureau is being erected in the business centre of Courtenay. Here, Mrs. Scheldrup, who is most enthusiastic in support of the movement, has volunteered to give her services for a year. All possible information concerning the district will be available at this bureau.

What Today Means

"ARIES"
If April 4 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m., from 2:45 to 4:45 p.m., and from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:45 to 10:45 a.m., from 12:45 to 2:45 p.m. and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

It might be well to weigh carefully any advice "lends offer" you on this date, before making up your mind to be guided by it. Personal problems are not always clearly understood by those who have not been confronted by the same sort that may be disturbing you, so a lack of clear understanding might make the suggestions offered not worth considering. As a rule each person has to work out his own salvation, so it might be wise not to depend on someone else helping. Price cutting may affect business deals on this date, so it will pay to keep your eyes open. Pleasure of a social nature will help promote good fellowship, so, if you have the opportunity to participate in them, it is likely to be advantageous. Your appetite may be greatly stimulated by some special dish on this date, but if you are sensible you will refrain from gormandizing, for over eating is likely to prove discomforting. Married and engaged couples, as well as those ready to give or receive an engagement ring, should be careful that any excuse they offer is a plausible one, which will stand investigation. If there is the slightest chance of it being checked up.

If a woman and April 4 is your birthday you probably have a master-hand when it comes to arranging things artistically. You should possess a great deal of rhythmic movement, as well as grace. You shine to advantage when you are in the spotlight. You should make an excellent singing, dancing or dramatic art teacher. You have very likely a good business head, as well as the ability to handle money advantageously, which you probably will have plenty of opportunity to do. A home should mean a great deal to you, and a congenial companionship is most essential for your complete contentment, so an early marriage should turn out most favorably.

The child born on April 4, may, when it reaches its teens, display a decidedly artistic bent in a particular direction, which should be encouraged, as it may lead to worthwhile accomplishment. If a man and April 4 is your natal day, make every effort to engage in the profession, art or work, which has the greatest appeal to you, for if you do otherwise, discontent is likely to have a detrimental effect on your earning ability. Educational or theological work, literature, law, manufacturing and merchandising may be the right line of activity in which to engage.

POLICE CHECK UP FOR ACID SALES
REGINA, April 3 (CP).—City police tonight were conducting a thorough check-up of all Regina drug stores for possible sales of hydrocyanic acid recently. It was the latest development in the investigation into the death of twenty-one-year-old Frederick Morley Morris, who died suddenly in hospital here on Sunday, twenty minutes after being rushed from his home, where his mother found him in terrible pain. An autopsy showed death was due to acid poisoning.

City and District

Will Meet Today—The committee on committees of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will meet today at 10 a.m.

Daylight Saving—The Hillcrest Tennis Club yesterday wrote to the City Council that all members were in favor of daylight saving time.

Apartment Addition—Miss M. E. Cherry has been granted a $300 building permit to add two rooms to her apartments at 1195 Fort Street.

Ward Three Liberals—The regular monthly meeting of Ward Three, Liberal Association, will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m. The meeting will be addressed by several well-known speakers. All members are cordially invited.

Illegal Tickets—Lee Sing was fined $20 in the city police court yesterday for having distributed lottery tickets, contrary to law. In default, he will have to spend two months in jail.

Ward Seven Ratepayers—The monthly meeting of Ward Seven, Saanich Ratepayers' Association, will be held in the Tillikum School tomorrow at 8 p.m. Important business will be discussed. All residents are asked to attend.

Thieves Active—Flower and milk bottle thieves are active, and Police Chief Thomas Healey is warning all citizens against them. Householders are advised not to leave money in milk bottles.

House Wrecking—Aldermen R. A. C. Dewar, Andrew McGavin, A. Peden and Archie Willis, members of the lands committee of the City Council, will meet at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon to examine tenders for wrecking a number of condemned city houses.

Conservative Broadcast—The seventh of the series of broadcasts under the auspices of the British Columbia Conservative Association, over Station CPCT, will be given this evening at 8 o'clock, by Gordon A. Cameron, Mr. Cameron's subject will be "Bennett, the Man."

Credit Address—"Installment Credit Experience and Pooled Accounts" will be discussed by G. M. Perkins, credit manager of the Beatty Washer Company, at the luncheon meeting of the Victoria Credit Granters' Association tomorrow in the Douglas Cafe at 12:10 p.m.

Heroism Marked—The Saanich School Board last night ordered a letter forwarded to Lassette De Lure, thirteen-year-old Saanich schoolgirl, who recently rescued her father when he was attacked by an enraged bull, citing her for her heroism.

Attendance Higher—Dr. David Berman, medical health officer, last night reported to the municipal school board that attendance at Saanich schools during January and February of this year was slightly higher than for the same two months in 1934. The attendance in January, this year, was 90.9 per cent, and last year, 90.7 per cent; February was 91.85 per cent for 1935, and 91.5 per cent last year.

Deacons Chapter Meets—The Victoria Deacons Chapter met on Tuesday at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay. Following a service of Holy Communion, Rev. Canon Nunns spoke on "The History and Character of the Church of Ireland." A business session followed, during which, among other matters, progress was reported with regard to the "deepening of spiritual life in the parishes." Luncheon was served in the rectory.

Gasoline Sale—The Garagemen's Association of British Columbia with headquarters at Vancouver, plan to call a meeting of local retailers of gasoline on Friday and Saturday. The association yesterday wrote to the City Council urging that body to join in placing before the Royal Commission evidence in regard to irregularities in sale and distribution of gasoline within the Province.

Works Report—School Trustee Albert E. Hull last night informed the Saanich School Board that works projects undertaken by the board were progressing favorably. Fences had been erected at the Gordon Head and Strawberry Vale Schools, the bicycle shed at the Mount View High School was nearly finished, and a gas tank and curbing for the garden at the Mount Newton High School had been completed.

Purchase Typewriters—Purchase of eight rebuilt typewriters in exchange for four old machines and $300 was authorized by the Saanich School Board last night. The board granted $11 to the Mount Douglas High School to be used with $15 raised by the school and a $25 grant from Provincial education authorities to form the nucleus of a school reference library.

Declared School Holiday—Thursday, May 23, was last night declared a school holiday by the Saanich School Board in order that the annual school sports may be carried out. Permission was granted the Victoria and District Cricket Association to instruct high school students in this game.

Coming Here—Names of 100 prospective visitors to the Pacific Northwest were received by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau yesterday from the Evergreen Playground Association. It was the third list received since the joint advertising campaign opened two weeks ago. Information regarding Vancouver Island has been sent each inquirer.

To Address Realtors—Members of the Real Estate Board will hear William Downes, of the Federal Department of Agriculture, at the meeting on Friday. His subject will be "Economic Entomology in Its Relation to Land Values and Agricultural Profits." The address is to be given at the luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room at 12:30 p.m. A full attendance is requested.

FRIENDLY HELP AIDS FAMILIES

Mrs. R. R. Taylor Re-elected President of Oak Bay Organization

Mrs. R. R. Taylor was re-elected president of the Oak Bay Friendly Help Society, at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Oak Bay Municipal Hall. Other officers are as follows: Honorary president, Mrs. W. J. Goepel; vice-president, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Charles Hudson; committee, Mrs. W. W. Baines, Mrs. C. Macdonald, Mrs. S. J. Drake, Mrs. H. A. Goward, Mrs. E. M. Brown, Mrs. L. Woodhouse, Mrs. Barber-Starkie, Miss Bradshaw and Mr. V. Roberts.

The reports of the year's work were read, and details of the work at the committee rooms were reported by Mrs. E. M. Brown. Approximately twenty-five families had been assisted during the year. In addition to supplies of clothing, food, etc., gifts of similar nature had been distributed to families who were in temporary financial straits, and help was given in a number of emergency cases. During the very cold weather, food and fuel had been distributed, and rubber boots, socks and gloves had been supplied to men on relief. Seeds had been distributed to those wishing to plant vegetable gardens.

CLEARING HOUSE
The rooms had served as a clearing house for furniture and clothes, such articles as beds, stoves, etc., being exchanged or given to families in real need.

Through the generosity of Oak Bay residents, many little extra comforts had been supplied to needy persons, and through the co-operation of the school nurse extra milk and cod liver oil had been sent to children. Mrs. Taylor expressed a sincere word of thanks to Captain Dexter and Miss Blankenbach for their assistance in arranging shows of supplies at the rooms, and to Mr. Findlay for auditing the books. An appeal was made for additional supplies of clothing, the supply at headquarters being low at this time of year, and anyone having contributions is asked to communicate with Mrs. Hudson, Empire 9731.

JUBILEE WILL BE TOAST OF EMPIRE

with spirited applause on rising to speak.

ENCHANTED ISLE
"I want to thank you very warmly not only for your welcome to me today, but also for the charming hospitality of your lovely Island during my present visit." His Excellency said. "The visitor is struck with admiration for the beauty of your surroundings every time he comes here. But when, in addition, the people provide such a delightful welcome, one can only feel that one has indeed set foot on an 'enchanted island.'"

"I am told you have an organized plan for increasing the number of tourists coming to the Island. I cannot think that you will have much difficulty in convincing the tourists of the world of your attractions. I wish your scheme every possible success."

"DON'T WANT TO"
"It is with very real regret that I have to realize that I am visiting you for the last time as Governor-General. Four years are behind me and I am now spending my last year in Canada. In the words of Rudyard Kipling, 'The years slide away so fast.' Before the end of the present year my time with you will have come to an end. Lady Bestborough and I, as well as members of my family, are sorry to be going. When we told our young Canadian son of our departure, he summed up the feelings of the family by replying bluntly: 'Don't want to!'"

"As you will have read, Mr. John Buchanan will be my successor. I am glad to think that I am to have so distinguished a successor. It is over forty years since a Scotsman was appointed to the office. From the great number of Canadians of Scottish descent, as well as from all others, Mr. Buchanan will, I am sure, receive a most hearty welcome. As a distinguished author, he is already known by his writings to many Canadians, young and old. I know you will all join with me in wishing for him and for Mrs. Buchanan a happy and successful time in Canada."

A GREAT COUNTRY
"Relinquishing of an office is always a solemn moment, and in my case a sad one. It will be no easy matter, as the steamer leaves the quay and the flag is hauled down on shore, to sever the many intimate ties that have bound me so closely to a great country for the best part of five years. Personal friendships and personal memories are independent of office, and I am glad to think they will persist."

"I asked my predecessor, 'What does it would take a long time to answer it fully, and now, with riper experience, I entirely agree with him. Whatever a governor-general does, he is doing it all the time. From the moment that he assumes office he is continuing his own education.'"

GENERAL EDUCATION
"Looking back over the past five years I realize that I have learned a great deal on a surprising range of subjects, as diversified as medical research, forestry, military engineering, scouting, Indian folk lore, the driving of a locomotive, habits of migratory birds, and the application of bio-chemistry to grain production. 'I have learned something, and I like to think it is a great deal, on the subject of Canada herself. It is a large country, and a big subject. I do not claim to have mastered it—"

LURING DIFFERENT FROM KIDNAPPING

Quite Permissible for German Agent Provocateur When Seeking to Make an Arrest

BERLIN, April 3 (AP-Havas).—The Reich has no intention of acceding to the Swiss Government's demand for return of Berthold Jacob, German emigre journalist, who, the Swiss say, was kidnapped when he disappeared from Basel, Switzerland, on March 9, German official circles said today.

Denying he had been kidnapped, they said if he was lured across the border by the agent provocateur, the proceeding was perfectly permissible and gave no grounds for the Swiss demand that he be freed. Jacob is now in a German prison.

Jeroboam I. was the first king of the Kingdom of Israel.

"SPRING FEVER"

The need of a Spring medicine seems to be universal. This is due to the fact that during the Winter months the blood becomes clogged up with impurities owing to the amount of heavy food eaten to supply bodily warmth, and to the lack of sufficient exercise.

Is it any wonder then, when the warm days of Spring approach, that the sluggish blood protests and causes that tired, listless, all-gone, don't-care-to-work feeling which is so prevalent at this time of year?

Large Congregation at He's Nearly Two Years Old Afternoon Wedding Here

Miss Eleanor Everall and Mr. Adrian B. Sanderson Married Yesterday Afternoon at First United Church by Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson

There was a large congregation of friends of the bride and groom in First United Church yesterday afternoon for the wedding of Eleanor Elizabeth, only daughter of Captain W. Everall, 1742 Fort Street, and the late Mrs. Everall, and granddaughter of the late Professor John Macoun, of Ottawa, the famous naturalist, and Mr. Adrian Barclay Sanderson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sanderson, Chapman Street.

Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., conducted the service, and Mr. Alfred Gurney presided at the organ and played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" and incidental music by Grieg, Handel, and other composers. As the register was being signed, Mrs. Gordon Shaw sang with much charm "Calm as the Night."

SPRING FLOWERS

For the occasion an assortment of Spring flowers had been arranged on the pulpit platform. A large basket of pink carnations adorned the pulpit table, flanked with potted pink hydrangeas, bowls of Arum lilies and baskets of daffodils and greenery. Big bows of white tulle and satin ribbon tied the guest pews.

The girlish bride, who was given away by her father, looked very charming in a brown printed frock of silk crepe and a large brown straw hat of a deeper shade turned up at the back. She wore a corsage bouquet of white gardenias and red roses.

Her only attendant was Miss Barbara Grant, in a smart frock of bright navy blue silk with collar and cuffs of eggshell silk, and an eggshell hat and gloves. Her corsage bouquet was of yellow roses.

Mr. H. J. Barratt, of Vancouver, was the best man.

RECEPTION AT HOTEL

After the service the bridal party and relatives drove down to the Empress Hotel for a reception held in the Princess Charlotte dining room, where daffodils were arranged with charming effect. A beautifully decorated three-tiered cake centred the refreshment table, and beside it were placed large crystal vases filled with daffodils and lavender stocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson left by the afternoon boat for Seattle from where they will motor to California, and after their honeymoon will make their home in Prince George.

Y.P.S. News

YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION

The United Church Young People's Union, Victoria Presbytery, will hold its annual Spring conference on Saturday and Sunday, April 6 and 7. The conference will open on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at Centennial United Church, where discussion groups will be held, being led by Rev. C. G. MacKenzie, Rev. J. A. A. Warr and Rev. G. G. Boothroyd. There will be a supper at 3:30 p.m., also at Centennial United Church, followed by the selection of officers for the coming year. On Sunday afternoon at 3, a rally will be held at Metropolitan United Church, the speaker being Rev. W. R. Brown, who will give an address on "Building a New Nation." The Thomas Crosby Attendance Shield will be competed for by the various societies at this rally. On Sunday evening a young people's service will be held at Centennial United Church, to which all young people are invited.

Mrs. Christie, of Ganges Harbor returned home on Saturday after two weeks' visit to friends in Vancouver.

This little fellow is Desmond Bert Nex, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Nex, of Carroll Street, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Nex, Montreal Street, and of Mr. and Mrs. L. Croson, Mary Street. Desmond will be two years old on April 25.

Clubs and Societies

Emmanuel W.A.

The monthly meeting of the Emmanuel Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Miss Marion Jamieson, 1925 Lansdowne Road, with the president, Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin, in the chair. The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. A. B. Boyer, and Mrs. George Anstey rendered a vocal solo. The guest speaker, Rev. F. W. McKinnon, gave an interesting and instructive address on the Douglas Social Credit Plan. In appreciation of Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon's service as home mission workers, they were presented with a quilt which had been completed by Women's Auxiliary members. Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon both expressed thanks for the unexpected gift. Mrs. A. S. Woollard, who will shortly leave to make her home in Saskatoon, and who has been a valued member of the Women's Auxiliary since its inception, was the recipient of a silver cake dish, suitably inscribed, together with a corsage of roses and violets, and a remembrance record card bearing the signatures of the Women's Auxiliary members. Mrs. Woollard fittingly thanked all present for their kindness. Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Victoria West W.M.S.

The bi-monthly thank-offering meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Victoria West United Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. W. Wright. The meeting, with a splendid attendance, was presided over by Mrs. Wright, who conducted the business period and reported regarding Hindu visiting. Discussion regarding the annual birthday tea resulted in a motion by Mrs. H. Croft, which was seconded by Miss L. Beattie, and passed, that this occasion be observed on May 7. Mrs. George Guy conducted an impressive devotional period from the Easter programme, with a supplementary reading by Mrs. Croft. Mrs. Guy introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Hood, who brought her usual splendid inspirational message of Easter truth, hope and joy. Mrs. Wright expressed to the speaker the thanks of all. A social hour followed, with refreshments served by the hostess.

Aged Women's Club

The monthly meeting of the committee was held on Tuesday afternoon at the Aged Women's Home. Mrs. W. L. Clay, the president, in the chair. Members present were Mesdames W. Grant, F. W. Vincent, S. Leiser, E. Hedde, H. Grant, D. C. Sabiston, A. D. Whittier and Miss E. O'Brien. The secretary reported receiving several more applications last month, but had to reply that the home was completely filled. The matron reported that the house cleaning was progressing nicely and the general health of the inmates was good. The committee for the month consists of Miss E. O'Brien, convener; Mrs. W. Grant and Mrs. D. C. Sabiston. A donation of books was received from Mrs. Leslie, Selkirk Avenue. Twenty of the ladies attended the concert in the Royal Victoria Theatre on March 18 which was sponsored by the Young People's Society of the Catholic Church.

Children's Aid W.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Children's Aid Society was held at 1234 Pandora Avenue. Mrs. Daniels, the president, was in the chair. A number of useful and new articles were turned in by the members. Arrangements were completed for the lecture to be given on May 8 at 2:45 p.m. in the Victoria Women's Institute rooms, 635 Fort Street, by Miss Alice Ravenhill. A tea is planned to be held early in June to commemorate the thirty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Children's Aid Society.

Sioux Club

Miss Margaret Kerr recently acted as hostess to the Sioux Club at her home, "Glenquithel," Wilson Street. During the evening the guests enjoyed cards and dancing. The feature was a game of "alibis." Later, refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Helen Johnson, Georgina McAnerin, Aline Brennen, Mae A. Price, Alice Leach, Jean Bishop and Grace Allen.

Britannia Branch W.A.

A daffodil tea and sale of home cooking will be held in the clubrooms of the Women's Auxiliary to Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, 715 View Street, today, from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. Teacup reading and house-hoosie will be features of the afternoon. A hearty welcome is ex-

"THE CHILD"

By REGINALD R. WIGGINS, M.D.
C.M. L.M.C.

MEAGRE MOTHERS

In a previous article I did not infer, as I stated, that children here were not as well cared for as those in the slum areas of the United States. This is partially borne out by statements from leading authorities—that we are half a century behind in child training as compared with the United States.

You mothers have an ideal locality, conducive to the proper rearing and training of your children, but what do you know and what are you doing about it?

Are you relying on what little you remember of your own care and training, which took place twenty or thirty years ago, or have you partially reared one or two children in a hit-or-miss fashion, and in consequence know all there is to be known?

May I say that there is no greater nor worthier task in the world than adequately caring for and properly training your children? They are the raw material from which future mankind will be evolved. Today we are training children to tackle the mess we have had a part in creating.

Be fair and honest with your children. Admit to yourself that you have little knowledge of their care and training and, before time passes, acquire the knowledge. Read the many excellent books written by those who have given their life's

Kitchen Shower

A surprise kitchen shower was held by the Misses Lillian and Hazel Smethurst, 2322 Vancouver Street, in honor of their sister, Miss Florrie Smethurst, whose marriage will take place shortly. The many useful gifts were presented in a basket decorated in a color scheme of pale pink and apple green, and the dining table was centred with pink carnations. During the evening court whist was played, the winners being Misses May Hick and Yvonne Hartley. Those present were Mrs. T. Berg (O'Brien Bay), and Misses Katie Simpson, May Hick, Yvonne Hartley, Daisy Lyle, Winnie Beecher, Pearl Matthews, Nellie Hume, Marjorie Gillies, Irene Davies, Eva Middleton and Audrey Hanson.

Golden Wedding

On the occasion of their golden wedding, a family gathering took place on Tuesday evening, April 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Roberts, 2651 Blackwood Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were married in Johnstone, Scotland, on April 2, 1885, and have been residents of this city for the past fifteen years. There were ten children born, nine of whom are still living, being residents of Victoria or Vancouver, with one daughter in San Francisco. There are thirteen grandchildren, all living in Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, who enjoy robust health, were the recipients of many felicitations on this happy occasion.

Guest at Work Point Barracks

Jane Dixon Says:

PATIENCE OF WOMEN IN LOVE BEYOND COMPARISON—HAVE MORE PATIENCE FOR THEIR LOVED ONES THAN MISS DIXON HAS FOR THEM

The all-time record for patience is popularly supposed to have been established by Job.

Job was a very pious man. His friends said he was pious because he was prosperous. In an effort to test his piety, the Lord destroyed Job's fortune, his children, and his health. Eventually, when he had proven his faith, all three were returned to him. In the meantime Job established the patience record that has rung down the ages.

But Job lived a long time ago, and when I read the plaints of women of all ages and conditions being tried in the crucible of love, I know that Job's record has been shattered times without number, that it is being shattered every day.

The difference is that Job's patience had intelligence behind it. So many of the Patiences who come to this column for help not only lack intelligence in handling their problem, but they show a complete disregard for reason.

They are patient because they'd rather go on suffering, indefinitely, than face the operating table.

TOM, TOM A SELFISH SON

Dear Miss Dixon: For a year and a half I have been going with Tom. He is twenty-six. I am twenty-two. I have had my engagement ring for a year and we planned to be married this Spring. Now Tom has decided he wants a big wedding, and as neither of us can afford it, the wedding in June is off.

Miss Dixon, I love Tom, but I feel very uncertain about marriage, and I'll tell you why.

Tom was in the hospital last May, and after he was discharged could not work for two months. However, he received ten dollars a week insurance and that money was his, because his mother said she didn't want him to pay board while he was out of work. He never spent a cent of the insurance for his mother, although she paid all of his hospital expenses. She works for a living, too, so it isn't as if money meant nothing to her.

During those three months he came to see me every night and we listened to the radio, talked or played cards. When he left me at night I thought he was going home, but I found he was going to a tap room to spend his money by himself. I found, too, that he was going to shows, and yet he never invited me to join him.

I told him I knew what he was doing and said I was through if he didn't stop being so selfish. He said he was sorry, that he didn't realize just how mean he was being.

Well, Miss Dixon, he is working now, and he is still doing the same things. I am with him Wednesday, Friday and Sunday evenings. On Saturday night I work and he meets me at 11:30. The nights I see him we don't do anything, but the other nights he goes to shows. Saturday nights he meets me after the second show at the movies.

He is so selfish and I feel badly about it all, because I truly love him and have become so attached to him that I have no other friends. He is always criticizing my clothes, but as I can't afford new ones, what can I do?

Should I go out with other fellows or do you think I am the one who is too critical? Please answer me, as I think something should be done about our engagement. On my birthday I received neither a card nor a gift, though my fiancé had plenty of spending money. He likes to tell me about the pictures he sees and the money he has.

When we go to a restaurant he walks away and leaves me sitting alone, sometimes for an hour. When I ask him where he was he says he was in the bar.

Oh, I feel as though I shouldn't see him at all anymore, but it is so hard to break up when I love him. I hope you will be frank with me and tell me exactly what you think. Please do.—S. D.

You asked, for frankness, S. D., and you're going to get it, but please don't blame me if it hurts.

I think one of the luckiest things that ever happened to you was that the young man of twenty-six got an idea he must have a big wedding. It proves to you what a phoney he really is. Any young man who would treat a working mother and a working sweetheart as he treats them has a thoroughly bad heart. Until he pulls out the selfishness and the badness by the roots and behaves as an honorable man should, he is a menace to happiness and to home, and should be barred from your life.

Doesn't the fact that he is willing to postpone your wedding because he can't turn it into a show neither of you can afford mean anything to you? It does to me. It means he would rather have a show than have you. So tell him to run along to the movies where he can have a show—that you are busy.

I don't need to tell you that a man who loves and respects a woman does not leave her alone at restaurant tables while he spends an hour or so in a public bar. What's wrong with your pride? Why didn't you walk out and go home? It seems that both you and the man's mother are doing the utmost to turn him into a no-account. When you tolerate his selfish and boorish behavior, you make yourself parties to it.

Inform your Tom in no uncertain terms that under no condition will you marry him in June or any other month unless he stops acting like a cad and proves he is a man.

Dogwood Chapter

Dogwood Chapter held a meeting at the home of Miss Jean Duncan. Miss Anne Staples, the regent, was in the chair, and there were twenty members present. The report of the recent telephone bridge in aid of the Health Centre, was satisfactory. The sum of $45.25 is already in, with two more places to hear from. The Duncan Elks donated $10, the Y.P.L. and the A.Y.P.A. gave $5 each, and Mrs. Dave donated $6. Arrangements for the tea dance, on April 27, were completed. Miss Hazel Castley will have charge of advertising; Miss G. Homfray, refreshments; Miss Jean Duncan, decorations; programme and music will be in charge of Miss "Pat" Carr Hilton, and posters will be in charge of Miss Viola Harris.

Voices of thanks to the press, and to Mr. K. F. Duncan for auditing the books, were passed. A letter of sympathy will be sent to one of the members, Miss Mollie Hargrove, who had an accident while in London recently. Miss Ella Creighton will be in charge of child welfare work for the remainder of the year. Miss Jean Buckham will address the next meeting in connection with Empire study work. Mrs. Moss O.B.E. gave an interesting talk on Health Centre work. Refreshments were served by Misses Jean Buckham, Iris Grassie, Patsy Petch and May Compton-Lundie.

The Beautiful Derelict

by Evelyn Wells

SYNOPSIS
Fleming Stone, famous New York detective, is bound for home aboard the Nova Scotia-New York steamer Nokomis when a drifting yacht is sighted in a fog the day after one of the international yacht races. With Captain Greer's permission, Stone accompanies a lifeboat crew and discovers two dead men aboard the beautiful craft, young Barry Wayne, owner and captain, and Ekins Van Zandt, of New York, a guest. Greer notifies the customs and is ordered to tow the yacht. The Mad Anthony, to New London. An inquest develops that Van Zandt accompanied Barry to witness the race when Jane Holt's father refused to permit her to go alone with her fiancé. Medical testimony indicates that Barry was killed soon after the start by a blow on the head with some heavy blunt instrument, and that Van Zandt died about the same time from ulcers of the stomach. Barry was the son of Daniel Webster Wayne, and was a double murderer, despite the autopsy findings, and the fact that Van Zandt was a slightly built man of 40, probably incapable of delivering the blow that killed Barry. Mrs. Van Zandt is a guest of the Wayne, as are Stephen Holt and his daughter Jane. The Wayne brothers start for home with Stone and Demarest after the inquest has been held at New London.

CHAPTER IV
After a swift trip in a coast guard motorboat, they reached the Nantucket-Yacht Club, and took a motor over to the village of Sand Hill, where the Wayne lived.
"That's the house," said Dan, looking toward a long, low structure just coming into view.
It was outside the hamlet, and fronted the sea. A house reminiscent of an old English inn, half-timbered on its original facade, but not on the many additions made to it. A sunroom at one end, a flower terrace at the other, seemed anomalous but not inharmonious.
A veranda ran the full length of the front, and an old sign board on rusty hinges swung from a tall pole. A painting on it, after Landseer's picture, justified the name of the tavern, The Stag at Bay.
For a tavern it was, or had been, long ago, and for many years the Wayne had spent their Summers there. Then Mrs. Wayne died, and after a few years more, the landlord, grown old, decided to sell the place.
The Wayne brothers talked it over and concluded to buy it, and live in it Summers. Barry approved the plan, having many life-long friends on the island, and when his father and uncle gave him their joint present of the splendid yacht, he was more than willing to live in the old house.
Indeed, all three felt more at home there than in their fine apartment in New York City.
Barry was twenty-five, a Yale man, and a big, buoyant-hearted, even boisterous chap who made friends with everybody because they made friends with him. He named his yacht Mad Anthony because of a not unfamous ancestor who was Barry's adoration, and whose ways he more or less emulated.
He sailed on cruises far and wide, always glad, however, to get back to The Stag at Bay.
Fleming Stone held the place at once. Few changes had been made inside the house, except such as would result in larger rooms. In several instances two or even three rooms had been thrown into one for the inn rooms were small. Low-ceilinged, too, and this had here and there been improved upon by raising a ceiling, and disregarding the useless remaining portion of the upper room. Elaborate plumbing replaced the old styles, and electricity was put in, though, at Barry's request, the gold chandeliers of bronze or crystal were left in a few rooms.
Straight through the house, from front to back, ran a wide hall, now called the common room, and used all the time by everybody.
Here, Vera Van Zandt, wife of the dead man found on the yacht's deck, also Stephen Holt and his daughter, Jane, awaited them.
As the four men entered, Jane Rose and flew to Daniel Wayne, crying out, "It isn't true, is it? Oh, tell me it isn't!"
Wayne put an arm around her and led her to a seat, while he said, in a low tone, "Yes, it is, dear. Be a brave girl. You know how we all love you and sympathize. We, too, loved Barry."
"Yes, I know. Oh, I am selfish. Your grief, of course, is as deep as mine. Forgive me, we will try to comfort one another."
She turned to her father, who drew her down beside him as he sat on aavenport.
But Pat Wayne was not to perform his errand so easily. He took the hand of Van Zandt's wife, and began to commiserate her on her grief.
"Don't talk like that!" she cried, stamping her foot on the rug. "Don't tell me you're sorry for me! What do I care whether you're sorry or not? Tell me of Ekins. Tell me how he died—who killed him? What with? Tell me everything! You know all about it, and I know nothing—nothing!" The last word died away in a long, low wail. She stalked across the floor and back, making despairing gestures with her hands, which would have seemed theatrical had they been less sincere. She shed no tears, but the tawny gleam in her amber eyes showed the intensity of her emotion.
The strangers saw only a woman racked with grief, for which she strove to find a physical outlet.
She paused before the older brother, "Dan," and her voice fell to a gentler tone, "Tell me about him! Tell me who killed him. I must know—I must! I must!" Again she gave a wild shriek.
"Hush, Vera," said Dan, "be more quiet. Van was not killed. He died of a stomach trouble."
"You lie!" she screamed, and as Dan looked across at his brother, Pat nodded—and Dan pushed an electric button on the wall near his chair.
In a moment appeared a matronly woman, in a moment appeared a matronly-looking woman, with a capable, kindly air.
"This is Mrs. Mingle," Dan said, "our most efficient and highly-christened housekeeper."
Demarest and Stone acknowledged the introduction, and then Vera screamed again, "Don't you try to take me away, Ming! I won't go! You let me be!"
"Just for a few moments, Mrs. Van. Come along now. I've something to tell you."
A pair of blue eyes looked straight into Vera's, and her amber eyes lost their glitter as she quietly let Mrs. Mingle lead her away.
"Mrs. Van Zandt is very emotional," Pat said, with an air of apology. "I think we may forget that little scene. Mrs. Mingle has a wonderful influence over her."
"Mrs. Mingle seems to be rather a wonderful person herself," Fleming Stone observed.
"She is," Pat Wayne told him; "she's the daughter of Florence Nighingale and Machiavelli. Kind as they make 'em, and clever as the devil."

"She lovely," Jane Holt said, "and how she did love Barry!"
"She was a second mother to him," Dan said, with a tremor in his voice. "We couldn't get along without Ming. I call her that, because she's as valuable as a rare bit of Ming pottery."
"She looks the part you give her," Stone declared. Then, turning to Jane, he said, "We promised, Miss Holt, that we would ask of you ladies no troubling questions today, though we may have to later. Would you prefer that Mr. Demarest and I talk with you as to the tragedy now, or wait until tomorrow? I need not remind you that promptness is one of the most important points in detective work."
Jane Holt was a spirited young thing, of medium height, exceedingly slender, with short brown curly hair and great grey eyes, fringed with long black lashes. She rose at once to the occasion.
"Mr. Stone," she said, "I am broken-hearted at this awful thing. I loved Barry Wayne with my whole soul. We were to have been married next month. I have no wish to spend time in grieving that might be used in tracking down his murderer. Ask me anything you wish, and I will tell you, if I can."
"I assume that includes me also," said Demarest, "and may I begin now?"
"Certainly," returned the girl, though her lip trembled slightly at thought of the ordeal.
"Then, first, Miss Holt, did you feel deeply disappointed at not being called to go on young Mr. Wayne's yacht yesterday?"
"I was very deeply disappointed," and Jane cast an indignant frown at her father. "Had I gone, this all might not have happened."
"You have no reason to say that," her father broke in. "You know nothing to indicate that and you have no idea who attacked Barry."
"Why did you object to your daughter's going, Mr. Holt?" This from Stone.
"Because it was a threatening day," Holt responded in an ungracious tone. "Barry is was a young daredevil, and after the race began he was quite capable of following a yacht far out to sea. I am too fond of my girl to subject her to what seemed to me very real danger."
"Yet you were willing to let her marry him?"
"That's another matter. Once she was his wife, I should have no further control of her actions. That is as it should be. But while under my protection I felt I must care for her."
"With whom did you go, Miss Holt?" asked Demarest.
"In a large motorboat belonging to Mr. Clampton, a neighbor. He invited some of us to go with him, having room for three. So I went and Mrs. Van Zandt and Uncle Pat."
"Yes," said Pat Wayne, "and I nearly threw my host overboard. He knows as much about motorcraft as Noah. The only thing Rod Clampton ought to navigate is an ark."
"But he got you there?"
"Yes, after a fashion. I wouldn't go out in a sailboat with him."
"You're quite evidently a sailor yourself?"
"I hope so. We all are; a Wayne was not a sailor would be picked off the family tree."
"You are a descendant of Mad Anthony Wayne?"
"Direct. He loved the water, too, but circumstances made him an army man—very much of an army man."

THEATRE
Practically every stunt man in Hollywood was on the 20th Century payroll facing a charge of armored elephants for the spectacular scenes reproducing the Battle of Plaszew, most brilliant of all England's victories, in "Clive of India," now at the Capitol Theatre. In an attempt to make this the most dramatic war scene yet brought to the screen, producer Daryl F. Zanuck was compelled to abandon the use of extras for the big battle and, at great cost, hire every stunt man available.

DOMINION Fred MacMurray, star of "The Gilded Lily," and Ann Sheridan play the leading romantic roles of Paramount's "Car 99," which is now at the Dominion Theatre. A story of the Michigan State Police, based on the true adventures of this famous motorized anti-crime force, "Car 99" presents MacMurray as a rookie trooper who places devotion to duty even above his love for a girl.

Columbia Offers Murder Mystery
An exceptionally talented cast was chosen by First National for the roles in "The Dragon Murder Case," S. S. Van Dine's thrilling murder mystery drama which comes to the Columbia Theatre today.
Warren William, who recently made a hit in "Dr. Monica," plays the leading role, that of Philo Vance, the famous sleuth, and is said to be the living image of the character as drawn by the author.
Eugene Pallette, who has been the Sergeant Heath of all of the Van Dine stories, again plays the role in this, the latest of the novels to be pictured. Robert McWade, who will be remembered for his remarkable characterization in "The Kennel Case," again has the part of District Attorney Markham.
The eight suspects at the house party at the home of a wealthy scientist, any one of whom might have committed the series of crimes which take place at the "Dragon Pool," are Margaret Lindsay, Lyle Talbot, Helen Lowell, Dorothy Tree, Robert Barrat, George E. Stone, William Davidson and Arthur Aylesworth.
Buck Jones is seen in the added attraction, "When a Man Sees Red," a fast-moving story of cattle rustlers.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS RETURN HERE FRIDAY
For many years in America the Georgia Minstrels have been famous as entertainers. The same company, with many new artists, will appear in Victoria tomorrow and Saturday at the Empire Theatre.
The Georgia Minstrels have been in Victoria several times, although not in recent years. On each of their appearances they attracted capacity audiences. In those days the company was known as a really first-rate one. It is stated on good authority that the company has not changed during the intervening years. All the old jokes and songs and various gags that made the show so popular in former days are again used but, perhaps, in more modern garb, becoming a progressive company.
There are between thirty and

DEBATING SOCIETY TO HOLD BANQUET

At the Douglas Hotel on Tuesday, April 9, at 7 p.m., a new debating society will hold a banquet, to be followed by an election of officers and a short programme. The formation of such a society originated with the salesmanship class of the night school, and its purpose is to hold debates, lectures and dramatics, thus completing by experience and practice the instruction received under Dr. Clem Davies and L. E. Good, instructors at the public speaking and salesmanship classes, respectively.

A constitution was drawn up and adopted at meetings held in the library of the Victoria High School. W. H. Binns, supervisor of the night school classes, expressed himself as being enthusiastically in favor of such a society and promised his whole-hearted support.

All former and present members of the two classes are eligible and are invited to the banquet, thus becoming charter members. Anyone desirous of so doing is asked to communicate with Vernon W. Jones, telephone G1419, on or before April 6.

SEOUL, Korea, April 3 (CP).—Seven workmen were instantly killed, forty-four were injured and 500 suffered broken eardrums at Koonan, in Kankyonando Province when a hydrogen tank in the nitrogen fertilizer plant exploded.

All the window glass in the neighboring houses was shattered. The frightened population took refuge in the nearby hills.

BAYS MISS CHANCE OF LIFTING FOOTBALL TITLE

SAANICH WINS FOOTBALL CUP FINAL AGAIN

Defeats Oak Bay Five Goals to Nil in Fragments of France Series

Running in two goals in the initial half when they were bucking a strong wind, Saanich schools' soccer eleven yesterday afternoon blanked the Oak Bay representative student team, 5-0, in the Fragments of France Cup final played at Oak Bay Park. Symbolic of the schools' football championship of Victoria and district, the trophy has been won by the Saanich students for the past four seasons.

Playing smarter and better football throughout the fixture, Saanich never left any doubt in the minds of the spectators as to which was the better team. The youngsters from the northern municipality demonstrated in no uncertain way that they have been well trained in the finer points of the game, and registered a clean-cut victory.

Oak Bay fielded a fighting eleven that never once gave up. The youngsters played a kick-and-rush brand of football, and although they came close to scoring on one or two occasions they found a stubborn Saanich defence that successfully repelled their every attack. Kitchen, brilliant Saanich goalie, had little to do, but what did come his way was handled with the accuracy and ability of a veteran.

Forced to kick against a stiff breeze in the initial stanza, the eventual winners scored twice before the teams reached the breather.

RALPH OPENS SCORING

Reggie Ralph, clever inside left, garnered the first marker when he literally walked the ball into the net after the Oak Bay goalie mistimed five minutes after the match got under way.

The second and final score of the first half came twenty minutes later when Smith and Booth, Saanich forwards, walked through the weak Oak Bay defence and the latter player tapped the ball through the goal.

Twelve minutes after the resumption, Saanich made it 3-0 when Harris, Oak Bay fullback, scored in his own goal after W. Isbister had taken a perfect corner kick. Still keeping up the pressure, Vic Booth made it 4-0, and then Isbister completed the scoring when he met a rebound from Ralph's shot and scored.

Capt. F. G. Dexter presented Reggie Ralph, captain of the Saanich eleven, with the trophy immediately following the match.

W. J. Cull refereed, and the teams were:

Saanich—G. Kitchen (Goalkeeper), K. Kennedy (Goalie), J. Smith (Strawberry Vale), R. Munro (Strawberry Vale), M. Speller (McKenzie), J. Moir (Cloverdale), B. Rhane (Tillicum), V. Booth (Strawberry Vale), G. Smith (Tillicum), R. Ralph (Mount View), and W. Isbister (Tillicum).

Oak Bay—H. Harris (Oak Bay High), M. Darling (Glenlyon), R. Walls (Willows), A. Gillespie (St. Michael's), W. Howell (Oak Bay High), D. McMillan (Oak Bay High), G. Lovitt (Willows), C. Rutherford (St. Michael's), E. Smith (Willows), W. Brown (Willows), and V. Murdoch (Willows).

JONES SCORES EASY VICTORY

Vancouver Welterweight Registers Technical Knockout Over Eddie Ivory in Six Rounds

VANCOUVER, April 3 (CP).—Sonny Jones, dusky Vancouver welterweight, pounded Eddie Ivory, also of Vancouver, into near helplessness in six rounds here tonight and was awarded a technical knockout. The match was scheduled to go ten rounds.

Jones weighed 142 pounds, three less than Ivory.

Baby Palmore, slugging Los Angeles 125-pounder, knocked out Chuck Carnera, 123, of Seattle, in the first round of the scheduled six-round semi-final. Palmore dropped the Seattle fighter half-way through the round with a right to the jaw.

Joe Woods, Vancouver, 134, defeated Bud Welling, Seattle, 135, in the four-round curtain raiser.

TOO CLEVER

Jones, who recently lost a close decision to Gordon Wallace, Canadian welter champion, proved too clever for the rugged Ivory.

After dancing through the first three rounds Jones opened up in the fourth with a two-fisted attack that rocked Ivory. In the fifth, Sonny bored in, scoring almost at will with his left and driving Ivory to the ropes repeatedly.

Jones bounded out for the sixth and snapped Ivory's head back with a pair of lefts and followed up with both hands to the body. As Ivory backed away Jones followed up and was pounding him unmercifully at the bell.

Ivory staggered to his corner almost out on his feet at the end of the round, and Referee Gil Martin refused to let him continue, awarding the verdict to Jones.

Toilers, Jacks To Open Series On Monday Next

VANCOUVER, April 3 (CP).—Winnipeg Toilers and Raymond Union Jacks, Manitoba and Alberta basketball champions, respectively, will play a three-game series at the Victoria Coliseum, April 8, 9 and 10, for the right to meet the British Columbia champions at the Coast in the Western Canada final, Ken Walton, British Columbia Basketball Association secretary, announced today.

The first game of the Western final will be played on April 13.

Walton also announced the Vancouver Province, British Columbia women's champions, will meet Edmonton Commercial Grads, Dominion women's champions, in Edmonton April 19 and 20, and again April 27, if necessary, in the Western play-offs.

ROYALS WIN FINAL GAME

Montrealers Take Deciding Tussle From Toronto All-Stars, 4-1

By HAROLD McNAMARA Canadian Press Staff Writer

FORUM, MONTREAL, April 3 (CP).—Montreal Royals, Quebec amateur hockey champions, emerged as a real threat for Allan Cup honors when they flashed to a 4-1 victory here tonight over Toronto All-Stars, Ontario titlists, before about 9,500 fans.

The win gave Royals the margin in the two-of-three game Eastern Canadian semi-final series. They won the first game here last Friday, 9-2, and lost at Toronto on Monday, 5-2.

The Quebec champions will move on to Halifax, where they meet Wolfverines on Saturday in the first of a two-of-three series for the right to enter the Allan Cup final against Port Arthur.

Brilliant play by Dave Neville, veteran right winger, gave Royals the victory. Neville slammed in two of his team's four goals and was credited with another when a Toronto defenceman accidentally cleared the rubber into his own goal. Lanky Hugh Farquharson, centre, scored the other. Toronto's lone counter was tallied by George Grivel early in the third period.

All-Stars were without two of their best men, Teddy Oliver, out with a broken wrist, and Don Hodges, who has water on the knee.

RIFLE MEETING

The annual meeting of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association will be held at the Armouries on Tuesday, April 9, at 8:30 p.m.

The Memory Wizard—Fernando de Cordoba (1422-1480) is one of the few men who really deserved the description of "Admirable" applied to them by contemporaries. He was gifted with such incredible memory powers that he completely memorized the Bible at the age of ten. By the time he reached the age of twenty, he knew by heart all the works of Aristotle, St. Thomas Aquinas, John Duns Scotus, Nicolas de Lira, Hippocrates, Galen, Avicenna and Albertus Magnus. His ability to recite any passage out of this vast library, without an error, was so incredible that for a time he was strongly suspected of witchcraft. In addition, he was a valiant soldier and a philosopher who mastered seventeen languages. He was also the champion swordsman of his day. In accordance with the custom then prevailing, the Castilian King sent him to Rome to meet all comers. He was the master of them all in the field of the spirit as well as in physical combat. He was doctor of music, astronomy, medicine, theology and the arts, and a great favorite with Pope Sixtus IV and Alexander VI.

HEAVYWEIGHT MAT MEN TO APPEAR HERE

Count Zarynoff Signed for Main Event Saturday at Tillicum Gym

Heavyweight wrestlers will return to Victoria after an absence of three years. Negotiations, opened last week in Seattle by Promoter Fred Richardson, reached a successful climax yesterday afternoon and, starting with this week, all heavyweight grappling cards will be presented each Saturday evening at the Tillicum Gymnasium.

For the opening show the local matchmaker has secured the services of Count George Zarynoff, Ukrainian exponent of the grunt-and-groan pastime, who today is rated as one of the top-ranking heavyweights in the mat game. A veteran of the bone-bending pastime, Count Zarynoff has appeared in the main event of wrestling cards all over the United States and in many different parts of Europe.

BOSTONIAN COMING

Mike Strelch, rugged Bostonian, has been secured to meet the Ukrainian count in the eight ten-minute round main event. Strelch is another grappler who has been sharing top spots on programmes in Pacific Coast circles for many years, and should make things interesting for Zarynoff. Each of the men are over 200 pounds in weight and are reported to be exceptionally fast and clever.

With the main event completed, Promoter Richardson was yesterday angling for a good supporting bout, also of heavyweights.

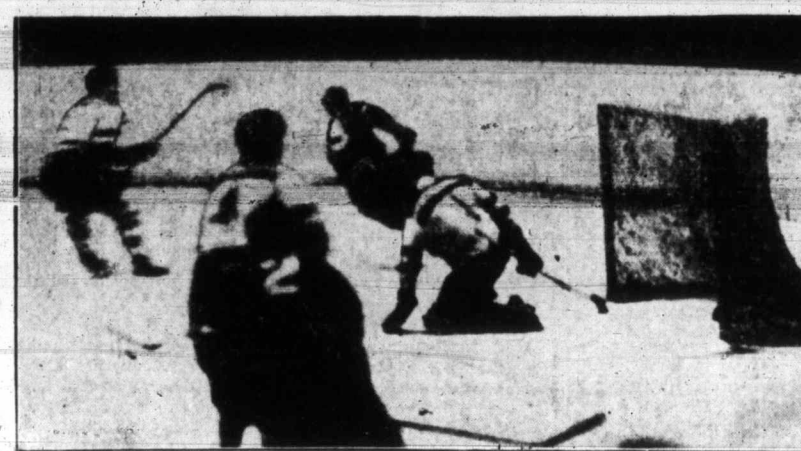

Forced to take this step because of the shortage of leading middleweights in Pacific Coast wrestling circles, the local promoter feels confident the move will prove popular with mat fans here.

Irish Wins From Harry Robinson In Cue Fixture

Running off the neat break of 113 early in the game, Bert Irish, local professional, scored a clear-cut victory over Harry Robinson, city billiards champion, in an exhibition match last night at the Metropolitan Parlors. Irish played 700 points to Robinson's 500, and the final count was 700 to 627, including the 200-spot.

Irish had breaks of 113, 39, 35, 45, 30 and 48, while the best Robinson could do was a 27 and a 25. The city champion also had several breaks in the twenties. A good crowd witnessed the match.

Toronto Leafs Raiding Bruins' Goal

Toronto Maple Leafs raiding the Boston Bruins' goal in the third game of the N.H.L. championship series, which they won by a 3-0 score. The Leafs went on to take the fourth game, 2-1, in overtime, to reach the Stanley Cup final against Montreal Canadiens. Here are the rumpaging Leafs as they tear in towards the Boston net, only to have Tiny Thompson, great goalie, come out and clear to the corner. Two Toronto attackers can be seen in on top of the Bruins' defence.

Bobby Jones Favored To Win Golf Tourney

Former Ruler of Fairways Is 6 to 1 Choice to Take Honors in Augusta Meet, Which Starts Today—Sarazen Is Next Favorite

By ALLAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 3.—The crack brigade of professional golf brings the long winter campaign to a brilliant climax with a double objective in view, starting tomorrow, in the opening round of the Augusta National Golf Club's invitation tournament. The money-players not only expect to frustrate the second annual comeback attempt of Bobby Jones, one-time world champion, but to give Old Man Par a fearful shellacking on the course designed by Jones, and considered one of the finest golfing tests in the United States. It is entirely possible, of course, that the professionals may prove to be wrong on both counts. Jones, shunning the responsibilities he played as No. 1 host here a year ago, and doing his best to get back into condition, may suddenly find himself when the tournament pressure is turned on tomorrow. Sentiment alone accounts for the unique fact that Jones, although this is only his second tournament in five years, today ruled a 6 to 1 favorite.

SARAZEN FAVORED

Gene Sarazen has hammered himself down to 7 to 1, and the odds are reasonably short on such other pro favorites as Paul Runyan, Horton Smith (the 1934 winner), Tommy Armour, Ed Dudley, Craig Wood, Henry Picard and Olin Dutra, the national open king.

Sarazen is the hot choice of the experts. He has carded four straight rounds of 65, 72, 67, 67, over the Augusta layout for a total of 271; that is seventeen shots under par. At least a dozen professionals have been cracking 70 with some regularity. So have several amateurs. Jones meanwhile has had trouble keeping even close to par, which is 72 for the 6,700-yard layout.

The entry list includes two Canadians: Jules Huot, of Quebec, and Andy Kay, of Toronto; a host of ex-champions and many amateur aces.

CAPACITY HOUSE TO WATCH LEAFS AND MAROONS

Squads All Ready For First Tussle Of Hockey Series

Two Powerful and Well-Trained Teams Will Perform Before Sell-Out Arena Tonight in Opening Game of Stanley Cup Play-Offs at Maple Leaf Gardens—Leafs Are Favored

By ELMER DULMAGE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

TORONTO, April 3 (CP).—Between 14,000 and 15,000 will watch the opening game of the Stanley Cup hockey finals here tomorrow night between Montreal Maroons and Toronto Maple Leafs, who have never before met in a series of such importance. The crowd for the first game may reach record proportions. The last season of so-called "hockey" in the city was approximately five years ago when the office opened today. Then it became a matter of how many standing-room tickets would be sold. When the big red team from Montreal slipped into town tonight the word was out that there would be a sell-out.

Maroons were alone on the scene. The Leafs, who went to Preston Springs after completing the conquest of Boston Bruins in the National League finals last Saturday night, will motor here some time tomorrow, probably late in the afternoon.

Having emerged from the grueling Boston struggles without a single major injury, the Leafs will start as favorites over Maroons, probably at odds of about 5 to 4. In a short series the conquerors of Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers are given virtually an even chance of beating Toronto.

POWERFUL DEFENCE

They are conceded to be as strong defensively as the Leafs, with Alex Connell in goal and Lionel Conacher, Allan Shields, Cy Wentworth and Stew Evans on defence. There may, however, be more scoring punch in the Leaf rear division, particularly if the series develops any kind of wide-open hockey.

DEAN FINED BY MANAGER

Dizzy Loses $100 When He Misses Train—Gilbert And Worthington Up

DOTHAN, Ala., April 3 (AP).—"Dizzy" Dean had something new to talk about tonight—$100 fine handed down by Manager Frankie Frisch—but the oratorical pitching ace of the St. Louis Cardinals was strangely silent.

Dean, Charles Gelbert, an infielder, and Outfielder Red Worthington, missed the club train at Dublin, Ga., last night. By making a fast automobile trip the erring trio caught up with the baseball party at Macon, Ga., today, just in time to be greeted by Frisch in his managerial wrath.

"Dizzy" was fined $100, Gelbert $50 and Worthington was sent home to St. Louis for the remainder of the Spring training, now in its last week. In addition, the Fordham flash sent Charlie Wilson, an infielder, home to St. Louis for breaking training for the second time.

BACKS UP FRISCH

ST. LOUIS, April 3 (AP).—Vice-President Branch Rickey, of the St. Louis Cardinals, said today he was "100 per cent behind" Frankie Frisch in punishing four St. Louis Cardinals, including "Dizzy" Dean, for breaking training.

Cup Finalist Wins

LONDON, April 3 (CP).—West Bromwich Albion, English soccer cup finalists, defeated Aston Villa, 3-2, in an English League, First Division, game played today.

In a Northern Section game Chester took undisputed leadership, blanking Rochdale, 1-0. In another Northern Section fixture, York and Barrow battled to a 1-1 draw.

SCOTTISH SOCCER

GLASGOW, April 3 (CP).—St. Johnstone and Aberdeen drew, 1-1, in a Scottish League, First Division, soccer encounter today.

GRIFFIN STOPS VANCOUVER BOY

Scores Technical K.O. in Second Round of Main Event of Mixed Card

Dropping his opponent for a nine count, and then flooring him again just before the bell ended the first round, "Biff" Griffin, hard-hitting Hillcrest fighter, scored a technical k.o. in the second round of his scheduled five-round mix with "Bud" Worth, Vancouver, in the main event of yesterday evening's mixed wrestling and boxing card presented at the Tillamook gymnasium by the Victoria Athletic Club.

Fighting in the semi-windup, Rex Carey, former Kelowna pugilist, threw too many gloves for Ted Bray, Vancouver, and won the unanimous call of the two judges. Carey sent Bray to the canvas for an eight count in the second round, and although he landed a number of good blows during the remainder of the mix, the Vancouver fighter finished standing up. Carey weighed 155 pounds and his opponent 150 pounds.

PARKER WINS

Bob Parker, Canadian Scottish, won the nod in his five-round scrap with Joe E. Brown, Vancouver. The Mahlander did little actual fighting during the mix, and while the local fighter tossed plenty of gloves and got in a number of point-scoring blows, his timing and judgment of distance was bad. Brown weighed 117 pounds and Bob Parker one pound less.

K. Shimizu and T. Uyede, clever Victoria Japanese wrestlers, gave an interesting exhibition of ju-jitsu and when the youngsters left for the dressing-rooms they were given a great hand by the fans.

With both lads mixing freely, Bob Smith, Fifth Brigade battler, won the call over Gordie Patterson, V.A.C. scrapper, in a good bout in the welterweight division. Fighting at 90 pounds, Stan James won the nod over Joe Muldon in an interesting three-round match.

Don Tyson and Eric Whitehead, Victoria wrestlers, grappled to a one-fall draw in a featherweight bout; while Vic Stevens scored a one-fall victory over Pete Tyson in a welterweight bout.

Wrestling in the light-heavyweight division, Joe Effen and George Farmer squirmed their way to a one-fall draw in an interesting match.

A good crowd witnessed the card, which provided plenty of variety. Stan James refereed the boxing bouts, while Al Garnot was the third man in the ring for the wrestling matches.

Soccer Chatter

By A.F.A.N.

One of the most pleasing features of local soccer today is the way in which Esquimalt have, by sheer dogged perseverance, gradually fought their way back to the position that one used to give them as a right. They have won their place in the local final for the Province Cup, and it will not be a surprise if the Dockers are the boys who meet Nanaimo in the Island play-off.

While it is not imaginable that anyone of our local clubs can eliminate the Up-Island team, it must be conceded that Esquimalt will give Nanaimo as good a game as would any other of our entries. They will have to use more judgment in the placing of their team, especially in the defence. With Jimmy Hay gone away, it is a dangerous thing to give Sweeney the important post of partnering March at fullback. Joe Watt is safer, and Joe Watt is not a halfback, nor ever was.

While Sweeney time and again relieved pressure by his gigantic kicking, he let his team down more than once in the last two games by inaccuracy in front of his goal, and on Saturday he will find the Wests only too ready to take advantage of a miskick or a fumble. Joe Watt, March and DeCosta will make a defence that can hold the Wests and even Nanaimo. Boyd is working like a Trojan, and will prove a great asset, providing he does not come to grief during one of his reckless heading bouts when he gets all out like a battering ram.

Esquimalt deserved their victory on Saturday, but it is doubtful if they would have won it had not the management of the Thistles, for some unaccountable reason, substituted Crowe and Gibbons at full back. Easler is not a forward and never will be; Harper was playing a sound game; did he retire, hurt? Neither Crowe nor Gibbons have played fullback for—how long? Everything pointed to a Saanich victory at half time, but when the crowd saw the changes made they expected what actually did happen.

Saanich seem to be almost embarrassed by a wealth of defence talent. They had to play Leggett centre forward, and while it was an experiment that might have come off, well, it just didn't. Noel Morgan and Brown were the pick of the Thistles' team, and had the rest measured up to their standard there would not even have been any question of overtime. Chalmers was good, and the final goal that beat him would have beaten many a better man.

The most disappointing team of the year is the City. At the beginning of the season they, by playing far the best football of the bunch, were drawing great crowds. They won the Milton Cup in great style, but since that day they have done nothing sensational. Perhaps it is a case of youth not being able to stand the racket of a long season, and, with more experience behind them, we may find them at the top of the tree next year. Let's hope so!

The Wests were not so very convincing in their win, and they will have to show a much better brand of football if they are to hold their own with Esquimalt on Saturday. Rowe and Bell were shining examples of the exception to the rule, and the play of these two should have been an inspiration to the rest of the team.

While it is always in bad taste to start anything like referee-baiting, it must be admitted that late in local soccer the fans and players alike have had just cause for complaint. Men have been allowed of late to get away with anything short of murder, and the crude methods of some of our local players have made use of in tackling make it just short of a miracle that we have not had any serious injury on the field.

Taking it in a general way, the accusation that our referees are deliberately ignoring the "dangerous play" ruling rather than seeming to spoil the game by whistling seems to be well founded. The numerous stoppages for injury are far more provoking than a little stern repression on the part of the referee could ever be. The trouble is a progressive one. Once the players find that they can get away with it, they go one better, the game is spoiled, and one or more of our better players have to be reported absent through injuries.

The visiting Seals evidently are to travel all the way from Calgary to Vancouver just to give the Vancouver fans a treat, which they are far from deserving. Victoria fans will not be any too pleased, and when the time comes for them to spend their ten bucks or so to see the visitors play, what will they think of the D.F.A., which is so short-sighted or so mercenary-minded as to ignore a town which claims to be doing today more than any other community in the Dominion for the game?

Rumors are abroad that there is still one club here that thinks itself strong enough to win the Dominion championship for Victoria. On Tuesday's playing it would be difficult to guess which club it is that thinks so much of its powers, and it certainly is refreshing to read that the

Delancey Making Putout

Some of the action pictures which come from big league training camps, during the grapefruit season, are posed; others are taken during practice or inter-club games. This one is not. It's from St. Petersburg, Fla., and Randy Moore, of the Boston Braves, is out at the plate trying to score on the ancient squeeze play. Bill Delancey, St. Louis Cardinals' catcher, is tagging him.

West's have no doubt about it. They have had the moral courage to come out into the open and announce that in their opinion the notion is absurd.

Basketball Officials May Do Away With Centre Jump Next Season

By PAUL MCKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP).—Dr. James Naismith, the quiet-spoken man who invented the game of basketball forty-four years ago, listened with an amused grin today as 200 college and high school coaches opened their campaigns for and against changes in the basketball rules.

The doctor let it be known he was for a hard and fast game with as few rules as possible, and then listened while conservative and fanatical schemes were explained by their sponsors. The doctor and other leaders of the convention, held by the National Association of Basketball coaches, were convinced that the game, except for possible modifications of the centre jump and pivot post play, would be approximately the same next season.

MAY ELIMINATE JUMP

All the schemes of the coaches were thrown into the convention hopper for consideration. The proposal to eliminate the centre jump and alter the pivot post play, were exhibited in a special basketball game tonight at Loyola University gymnasium between De Paul, of Chicago, and Illinois Wesleyan.

Routine matters took up most of today's session. The arguments over rule changes open tomorrow and after the pivot post play, were exhibited in a special basketball game tonight at Loyola University gymnasium between De Paul, of Chicago, and Illinois Wesleyan.

Public Enemy No. 1 of basketball is the increase in booby at amateur games. Coach F. C. Allen, of the University of Kansas, told the delegates today.

Tokio Student Claims Record For Marathon

TOKIO, April 3 (AP).—A new world's mark for the marathon of 26 hours 26 minutes and 43 seconds was claimed today by Yasuo Ikenaka, Tokyo student. He made the time today in a meet for prospective Japanese entrants in the 1936 Olympics.

Officials said the course was the regulation Olympic marathon length. The Olympic record is 2:31:36 made by Juan Carlos Zabala, of the Argentine, at the 1932 Olympic in Los Angeles.

There are no listed world marathon records since most of the courses vary. The mark set in Tokyo today also tops the United States A.A.U. record of 2:43:26 2-5, made by Dave Komonen, of Sudbury, Ont., June 9, 1934, at Washington.

WILL PRESENT CUE TROPHIES

Winners to Receive Awards Tonight at Chamber of Commerce

The Irish Brothers' Cup, symbolic of the city championship, and other trophies won by cue squads in the City Billiard League will be presented this evening at a monster wind-up smoker at the Chamber of Commerce.

Harry Robinson, 18th crowned city champion, will receive the trophy, emblematic of the title, while cups for the various divisions of the league will be presented to the captains of the championship aggregations. Individual members of the squads will receive other awards.

Arranged by Tom Obee, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Tillamook Athletic Club, the programme for the event promises to be one of the best presented for many a day. Leading local artists are booked to appear on the lengthy list of acts that should keep the large gathering amused and interested for more than two hours.

Tickets have been moving rapidly all week, and indications point to a record crowd being on hand to ring down the curtain on the 1934-35 season with the City Billiard League.

THE PROGRAMME

The complete programme of entertainment follows:

FISHING IS GOOD AT COWICHAN LAKE

LAKE COWICHAN, April 3.—Although the weather during the week-end was most unfavorable for fishing, several good catches were made. Major R. Monteith, of Victoria, and A. C. S. Pitts and party, who were staying at the Riverside Hotel, caught their limit in the river, and a good catch was reported from Cedar Cabin Auto Camp.

PEDEN RATED FOURTH BEST BY MCNAMARA

Victoria Six-Day Rider Well Up on Veteran's List—Letourner First

By NELSON GRISWOLD
Associated Press Staff Writer

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 3 (AP).—Reggie McNamara, fifty-one-year-old "ironman" of six-day bicycle riders, today selected Alfred Letourner, of France, as the greatest professional rider he has seen or competed against in his thirty-five years of racing.

"Letourner, without question, is the greatest of all time," McNamara said, as he selected the ten best in the sport. "The Frenchman has more heart than any rider I've ever ridden against or seen, has speed to burn, is smart, has perfect timing, and knows when to apply the pressure."

McNamara, native Australian and now a resident of Newark, N.J., is competing in the current grind in Buffalo, his eleventh race as a six-day rider.

PEDEN IS FOURTH

McNamara's list of the best riders includes, in order, Letourner; Franco Gergetti, of Italy; Frank L. Kramer, of Newark, N.J.; "Torchy" Peden, of Victoria, B.C.; Walter Rutt, of Germany; Gerard Debaets, of Belgium; Pete Van Kempen, of Holland; Alfred Goulet, of Australia; Oscar Egg, of Switzerland; Fred Spencer, of Nutley, N.J.

Gergetti, Peden, Debaets, Spencer and Letourner are the only ones among the ten who are riding now.

SECESSION CASE WILL BE ARGUED

British House Committee Considering Western Australia's Right to Petition

LONDON, April 3 (CP).—The economic life of Western Australia is slowly being strangled by the tariff policy of the Federal Government of the Australian Commonwealth. J. H. Morgan submitted today before a joint select committee of Parliament.

The committee was appointed to determine whether or not Parliament could receive a petition presented to it by the State of Western Australia, asking secession. Lord George is chairman.

The committee adjourned until April 10.

Stock Prices Turn Decidedly Soft at Eastern Exchanges

MONTREAL, April 3 (CP).—Heavy price trends showed on the Montreal Stock Exchange today, with the market continuing to hover in the shadow of the Ontario Hydro contract situation.

Utility stocks again displayed weakness and market sentiment as a whole was adversely affected. Canadian Hydro-Electric preferred lost 3 points at 39; Montreal Power, 1-2 at 27 1/2; Shawinigan, 1-8 at 15 7/8, and B.C. Power, 3-4 at a new low of 23 3/4. Southern Canada Power displayed a small gain.

Textile issues vied with the utilities for leadership in the decline. Dominion Textile lost half a point at 79, and Canadian Celanese a similar amount at 18 1/4, while Penma's dropped 4 points at 57.

Among specialties, Associated Breweries rose 1-1/2 at 12 1/2; Canadian Cottons preferred, 2 at 100; Ogilvie, 10 at 150, and Western Grocers, 3 at 35. On the other hand, Canadian Bronze lost 1-3/4 at 25 3/4. Consolidated Smelters 4-1/8 at 127 3/4, and Dominion Glass preferred 1-3/4 at 138 1/4.

TORONTO, April 3 (CP).—Industrial stocks closed lower again today, reflecting weakness in the bond market. Interlisted leaders were off at the close. Thirty-eight stocks recorded losses and only thirteen chalked up gains.

Strength in Bell Telephone was a feature. It closed at 120 1/2 for a gain of 1-3/4, trailed by Consumers Gas, which added a full point. Power stocks lost ground. Montreal Power and B.C. Power "A" weakened a full point each and Shawinigan lost 7-8.

In the distillery group closing prices were down 3-4 for Walkers common, 3-8 for Industrial Alcohol "A" and 1-8 for Distillers-Seagrams. The brewing group weakened fractionally.

Volume dwindled in the bank shares, with prices mainly steady. Steels were irregular, construction heavy and food stocks shaded. Western common dropped 2 points and Canada Packers 3-4.

TORONTO, April 3 (CP).—Industrial stocks closed lower again today, reflecting weakness in the bond market. Interlisted leaders were off at the close. Thirty-eight stocks recorded losses and only thirteen chalked up gains.

Strength in Bell Telephone was a feature. It closed at 120 1/2 for a gain of 1-3/4, trailed by Consumers Gas, which added a full point. Power stocks lost ground. Montreal Power and B.C. Power "A" weakened a full point each and Shawinigan lost 7-8.

In the distillery group closing prices were down 3-4 for Walkers common, 3-8 for Industrial Alcohol "A" and 1-8 for Distillers-Seagrams. The brewing group weakened fractionally.

Volume dwindled in the bank shares, with prices mainly steady. Steels were irregular, construction heavy and food stocks shaded. Western common dropped 2 points and Canada Packers 3-4.

THE TUTTS . . . By Crawford Young

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

WHY IS IT A METROPOLIS?

To the initiate, metropolis evokes conceptions of the beginnings of political organization, man in the social mold, history in inception.

Metropolis reveals how nations were born and grew, how peoples were welded, how ideas, religious and secular, were disseminated.

Today the term metropolis is applied to a city which is a political, financial and moral leader of a nation. Originally, it was of far deeper significance.

We have metropolis from two Greek words, mother plus city. A metropolis, in other words, was the mother city in relation to her colonies, which it developed, ruled, nurtured and abused, very much as a mother treats children.

Classic illustrations of a metropolis in ancient times were Athens and Rome.

Steady at Toronto—San Antonio Is Featured

TORONTO, April 3 (CP)—Considerable afternoon buying in cheaper gold gave the mining section of the Toronto Exchange a fairly firm close today. Base metal and silver shares were steady.

Heavy trading in San Antonio featured. The stock recovered 10 cents to close at 350. Chibougama advanced 2 cents at 24 1/2, while Little Long Lac slipped back 30 cents to 555.

God's Lake was also offered in the market for a loss of 6 cents to 125. Bettle lost 10 cents. Gains of 2 to 4 cents were recorded for Macassa, McKenzie Red Lake, Pickle Creek, Sheep Creek and McWaters.

Dome, Wright, Hargrave and Plover dropped 15 to 35 cents each and Tack-Hughes lost 5. Reactions in the base metals were 5 to 15 cents for Noranda, Hudson Bay and Sher.

FORECASTS NEW CHRISTIAN ERA

J. S. Eason, Vancouver, Addresses British-Israel Society in Victoria

The end of this year will see the emergence of a new church and a new state, freed from the false ideas and methods of the past, is the view of J. S. Eason, of Vancouver, writer and lecturer, as stated in his address at the Victoria and District British-Israel Association meeting Tuesday evening.

The idea of both church and state must be carefully dissociated from any particular institutional aspect, and must be understood as indicating a collective body of individuals having a common purpose in view. This was the true sense in which both church and state in the British race had in the past functioned, as the two witnesses to Divine mercy and righteousness.

The work of engineers, administrators and other servants of the state had transformed countries that previously had been a prey to malaria and famine. Similarly the gospel of salvation had been the work of the true church. But both organizations had been passing through a severe crisis comparable to spiritual death from which they were due to emerge before long. December 5 of this year being indicated in the symbology of the Great Pyramid as the initial date; said Mr. Eason.

WILL OF GOD.

Thence, forward until September 16, 1936, the growth of spiritual awareness would advance with accelerating rapidity until, by that time, the speaker forecast, a majority of the nation would have become imbued with a desire to be submissive to the will of God and thus be able to advance into the new order of the Kingdom of God on earth.

Already a general dissatisfaction with the plane of life which has hitherto been lived may be discerned, said Mr. Eason, citing many instances in recent contacts with business and other organizations, and as this spirit gained momentum, it would lead to the spiritual transformation of the race and thence to the blessing of the world.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

NO "SPECIAL" TREATMENT FOR COLDS

In a large city recently, 10,000 youngsters were home from school due to illness, of which 90 per cent was the common cold. The weather had not been so cold, but wet and raw, showing that dampness is at least one factor in causing colds.

That there are other factors—overeating, overheating, exposure—is also agreed, but no one has yet been able to get the special cause of cold, and so there is no special or specific treatment.

Dr. P. H. Long, Baltimore, in the Michigan State Medical Society Journal, states that as there is no specific remedy for the treatment of colds, his observations have led him to believe that the right treatment is to put the patient to bed at once, and make him remain there for two or three days. A mild laxative is of value and the distressing symptoms should be treated as they appear.

In fact, if the patient is put to bed at once and the intestine kept active many cases are arrested in time that might go on to bronchitis, bronchopneumonia, or even pneumonia.

As you know nearly everybody has a "sure cure" for a cold, which he recommends to sufferers.

Dr. Long points out that all the different forms of treatment now given for colds—hardening exercises, vitamin feeding, ultra-violet rays, vaccines—show only too well that there is no "special" cure; that what might seem to help one case, is of no value in another.

Dr. Long states finally: "At present the only prophylaxis (prevention) against colds is avoiding, coming in contact with infected persons. There is no other method."

While most physicians will agree with Dr. Long in putting the patient to bed for two or three days as the best treatment, many know from experience that eating less of certain foods and more of others during an epidemic of colds has prevented many colds and lessened the severity of others.

Forbidden foods are fable salt, salted butter, smoked meats and fish, sardines, herring, pickles, candies, hot biscuits, highly seasoned sauces.

Foods permitted are small amounts of meat, eggs and cereals, large amounts of milk, unsalted butter, vegetables, salads, fruits (fresh or dried).

ENTIRE FLEET TO COME INTO SOUND

United States Naval Force Will Concentrate at Seattle at End of July

SEATTLE, April 3. (AP).—The Seattle Chamber of Commerce received word today that Admiral J. M. Reeves, commander-in-chief, will concentrate the entire United States fleet and its 31,200 officers and men here during Fleet Week, July 28 to August 4.

The committee chairman, Frank W. Hull, said the cruiser force of fourteen heavy cruisers, twenty-six destroyers and two tenders, will arrive in Puget Sound on July 1, and the battle fleet of twelve battleships, eight light cruisers, twenty-five destroyers and six submarines will arrive on July 13.
